Calls For Unconditional Surrender

Dominican Junta Claims 'Full Control' Of Country

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican junta claimed "absolute control" of the country Wednesday night and called for unconditional surrender of the rebels.

"We have absolute control of the Dominican Republic," the junta president, Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, told a rally of about 1,000 cheering middle-and upper-class followers inside the U.S.-occupied international zone of Santo Dodomingo.

"We don't want a truce. Out with communism," the crowd shouted.

Imbert spoke from a balcony at his headquarters in the Congressional Palace shortly after junta troops overran the rebel radio station and rebel resistance in northen Santor Domingo collapsed.

Imbet told an interviewer he would not consider any compromise with the rebel force of Col. Francisco Caamano Deno. He said his five-man junta would only discuss unconditional surrender of the insurgents, whose main force is holed up in downtown Santo Domingo inside the U.S.-controlled areas.

Caamano has also refused to meet with Imbert, contending that any compromise with the junta would violate rebel demands for a return to the 1963 constitution.

However, a spokesman for the U.N. peace mission said both the junta and the rebels have agreed in principle to a 12-hour cease- fire Friday to let the Red Cross remove dead and wounded from the fighting zone. The spokesman added that detailed agreements with each side still must be worked out.

Shooting tapered off Wednesday night, but there apparently were rebel holdouts in the northern area. Imbert told a newsman the battle would be over by the weekend.

Asked if his forces would try to storm the rebel stronghold downtown, the junta chief said, "That's next week's problem."

A junta spokesman said 800 rebel prisoners had been taken in the battle in the northern suburbs.

Hospitals reported 30 dead in the fighting, but some estimates placed the total at more than 100 including civilians.

Newsmen driving through the area said tanks had demolished some homes where rebels were believed barricaded. Many homes were scarred by machine-gun and cannon fire they said.

Some families fleeing the battle area claimed U.S. troops were aiding junta soldiers in the fight against the rebels. Some said they had seen American troops arrive with junta forces in three truckloads of reinforcements Tuesday.

A U.S. military spokesman said the only American troops with the junta were radio units assigned to help Dominican forces keep their gunfire away from the American Lines.

In New York, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant called on the United States to "use its good offices" to get the rival Dominican factions to heed the ceasefire appeal issued by the Security Council last Friday.

Thant said his special Dominican envoy, Jose Antonio Mayobre of Venezuela, told U.S. officials in Santo Domingo there was an "unavoidable implication of United States involvement because of the inaction of United States forces during the (junta) offensive."

One Or More Americans Perish

120 Killed, 6 Injured In Pakistani Jet Crash

U.S.-Built Craft Down Near Cairo

Heavy Fog, Engine Trouble And Fire Lead To Tragedy

CAIRO (AP)—A Pakistani jetliner inaugurating Karachi-to-London service crashed in desolate desert sands near Cairo Airport today, killed 120 of the 126 persons aboard.

It was the fifth worst air crash in aviation history.

Airline officials said one or more Americans perished in the flaming crash. Identification was not immediately available.

The airline said that of the 115 passengers, 93 were listed as Pakistanis, 12 Chinese and 10 other foreigners, whose nationalities were listed as U.S., Canadian, Lebanese and Egyptian.

The American-built jetliner's 11 crewmen died in the crash.

All six survivors were Pakistanis. Two were employes of the Pakistan International Airline and another was a Pakistani tourist official. Three of the men were reported in critical condition.

The flight was scheduled to pick up 52 additional passengers, all guests of the airline, at Cairo for the remainder of the flight to Geneva and London.

Capt. Akhtar Aly Khan, pilot of the four engine jet, reported engine trouble and a fire in the landing gear minutes before the crash.

The plane, a Boeing 720B, was inaugurating the airline's new Karachi to London route. Among the passengers were 62 newsmen, airline officials and other invited guests. The same plane had made three preinaugural flights over the route.

The big jet ploughed into a sand hill in a heavy ground fog as it prepared to make its final approach to the Cairo Airport. It crashed at 2:50 a.m. A West German airliner first sighted the wreckage, and Egyptian air force helicopters landed at the wreckage at dawn to pick up the six survivors.

Nearly impassable terrain delayed the arrival of other rescuers until six hours after the crash.

"There were no more survivors except for two baboons still alive beneath the wreckage," one person at the scene reported.

Two Boys, Girl Lead Class

2 Tie For Top Honor At Wellsville

Two boys with perfect scholastic averages have been named co-valedictorians of the 1965 graduating class of Wellsville High School.

They are Richard W. Call, son of Mrs. Margaret E. Call, 1148 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, and John H. Call of Sunnyside Ave., East Liverpool, and Allen James Dalrymple, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Dalrymple of the Lisbon Rd., Wellsville R.D. 1.

Warn Reds To Halt Aggression

U.S. Planes Drop Leaflets Within 55 Miles Of Hanoi

BULLETIN

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) —More than 100 U.S. warplanes attacked a North Vietnamese naval base and other targets today in a series of strikes. All planes were reported to have returned safely.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force planes flew within 55 miles of Hanoi today and dropped half a million leaflets warning the Communists to halt aggression in South Viet Nam or "bear more disastrous consequences," a U.S. military spokesman said.

On the ground, the Viet Cong fired a short mortar barrage into a U.S. Marine patrol 15 miles southwest of Da Nang, killing one Marine and wounding two others. The Marines reported their return fire killed at least two guerrillas.

"If the Vietnamese Communists are stubborn in their aggression and sabotage in South Viet Nam, they will bear more disastrous consequences," the leaflets said.

"Our brothers in the army of North Viet Nam, don't let the Chinese and Vietnamese Communists use your bones and blood to wage a fratricidal war in South Viet Nam."

The spokesman said 25 F105 Thunderchiefs dropped the leaflets over Ninh Binh and then attacked a radar station on Hon Matt Island 135 miles southeast of Hanoi. The flight over Ninh Binh was the third time U.S. aircraft had penetrated above the 20th Parallel, the spokesman said.

The dual mission capped a day of almost continuous air strikes against the Communist North on the third day of renewed raids.

Earlier strikes were reported against the Phu Qui petroleum complex, 125 miles south of Hanoi, and against a convoy of 15 trucks. Phu Qui was also attacked when the raids were resumed Tuesday.

The spokesman said four U.S. Navy Skyhawks from the carrier Coral Sea destroyed four railroad cars and probably damaged bridges on a raid between Thanh Hoa and Vinh, 128 miles south of Hanoi.

The aircraft also attacked a ferry and a bridge 100 miles south of Hanoi but the extent of damage was not immmediately determined.

A military spokesman said four planes, attacking before dawn with the aid of flares, damaged five trucks in the convoy moving west along a road about 90 miles south of Hanoi. All four planes returned safely to the carrier Coral Sea without encountering any antiaircraft fire or hostile aircraft, the spokesman said.

Wednesday night three pairs of U.S. Navy Skyhawks made separate strikes against a bridge 77 miles south of Hanoi and boxcars and other targets about 120 miles below the capital. They followed a mass strike by 40 U.S. Navy planes Wednesday morning.

Limits Eyed On Debate Of Voting Bill

Mansfield, Dirksen Plan Petition On Friday For Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has announced plans to cut through talk on the voting-rights bill and put it to a vote.

The showdown on his drive for cloture — a strict limit on debate — will come next Tuesday, in the fifth week of Senate consideration of the administration-backed measure.

Joined by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, his partner in planning strategy on the bill, Mansfield will file a debate-limitation petition Friday. In the interim, he will be trying to round up the votes required for cloture — two-thirds of the senators voting on Tuesday.

If Mansfield succeeds, senators will be limited to an hour's speaking time each on the bill and all its amendments.

The Montanan announced his plans Wedneseay after he tried — and failed — to get the Senate to agree to limit debate on each remaining amendment to one hour and to vote on the measure Tuesday afternoon.

Mansfield was blocked by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., acting for Southern senators who contend the bill would strip states of their constitutional right to fix qualifications for voters.

Under the bill, literacy tests would be suspended in wide areas of the South and the federal government could appoint examiners to register voters.

Mansfield said he didn't know if he could get a two-thirds majority, but he said he thought the Senate had had the bill long enough. It got to the floor April 22.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, told reporters it would have been impossible to limit debate last week or this.

Hickenlooper declined to predict how he thinks the cloture effort will turn out next week. He described himself as not committed, but said he guesses he probably will vote to cut off debate.

If he does, the debate-limitation petition seems likely to succeed. Hickenlooper has voted with the South on some key amendments. He also has said the bill seems "completely unconstitutional."

McDonald Plans No Vote Protest

PITTSBURGH (AP) — David J. McDonald will step down as president of the United Steelworkers Union next month without the fight he promised.

McDonald announced Wednesday that he was withdrawing his protests to the union's Feb. 9 election in which he was narrowly defeated by Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel.

Although associates said he still believes he won, McDonald told newsmen he was bowing out to avoid a lengthy legal wrangle that could weaken the union in its current contract talks with basic steel.

The negotiations, now facing a possible Sept. 1 strike date, were twice interrupted by the bitter Abel-McDonald struggle.

McDonald, 62, who once toiled for 22 cents an hour in mills where steelworkers now make more than $3.60 an hour, guided his union to some of its best contracts and through its longest strike —116 days in 1959.

During his 12-year reign he negotiated the first comprehensive profit-sharing plan and won extended 13-week vacations for senior workers in first the aluminum, then the can and steel industries.

One of his abiding interests was the problems of older workers and those who had retired. It was an interest that came from seeing an illness kill his father who was still at work in the mills at 72.

McDonald was one of the first labor leaders to win pension increases for workers long retired. His own pension, when he steps out June 1, will be $25,000 a year. As president he was paid $50,000.

Abel praised McDonald Wednesday at their joint news conference.

"Under your leadership we have made outstanding progress. I want you to know that these contributions are not only appreciated today but will be down through the years."

But despite their handshake and the absence of their former bitterness, there were indications that the old order already was changing.

One of McDonald's chief contributions was continuous, year-round bargaining conducted by the joint union-industry human relations committee. It was responsible for writing the 1963 contract without reopening the old one, a first for basic steel.

House Group Votes Repeal Of Auto Tax

4 Major Companies Say They'll Pass Any Cut To Buyers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has taken a long step beyond President Johnson's request and voted to repeal entirely the excise tax on passenger automobiles over the next four years.

The four major auto companies promptly announced they would pass any tax cuts on to buyers, which would mean an eventual price reduction on an average car of about $230. The present excise tax on cars is 10 per cent, and Johnson asked that it be cut to 5 per cent.

Tuesday's Ways and Means Committee action — if upheld by Congress — would bring the eventual revenue reduction to nearly $5 billion, $900 million more than Johnson had recommended in a special message to Congress Monday. The cut in the first year would be about the $1.75 billion urged by the President.

Swift congressional approval of excise tax cuts seems assured.

The House probably will vote on the measure the week of May 31, if leaders carry out present plans.

In the Senate, Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said the Finance Committee hopes to take up the bill right after the House acts and will hear only one witness — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler. Sen. Byrd said all potential witnesses favor the cuts.

The unusual speed is designed in large part to head off any slump in buying the many goods on which taxes would be eliminated July 1.

Following Johnson's recommendation, the House committee provided procedures by which people who bought autos or air conditioners before July 1 could get refunds.

In addition to these two items, a long list of goods, taxed for the most part at 10 per cent, would become tax free July 1 if the legislation is enacted by then.

Bill Designed To Curb Accidents

Vote Bans Hitch-Hikers From Ohio's Freeways

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An effort to open Ohio's freeways to hitch-hikers has been defeated by the Ohio Senate with passage of a measure designed to curb accidents on superhighways.

Senators gave 24-6 approval Wednesday to the proposal banning pedestrians, bicycles, and slow-moving vehicles from freeways with up to a $50 fine for the first offense.

Sen. Francis D. Sullivan, D-Cuyahoga, sought to amend the measure by Sen. Jim Thorpe R-Stark, to conform with present laws permitting hitch-hikers on highways so long as they stand off the roadway.

"My main concern is the many college students who hitch-hike home on the weekends. We shouldn't punish these young fellows," Sullivan argued.

Thorpe countered that his intent was to punish no one and added: "This is a safety measure. We might do the students more harm than good by allowing them on freeways with traffic moving 70 miles an hour."

The House voted overwhelming for an emergency measure calling for a comprehensive study of state and local tax laws.

Under the proposal, which now goes to the Senate, an 11-member bipartisan commission would be created to make the study and make recommendations by February 1, 1967.

The measure carries a $150,000 appropriation to pay for the study.

The legislature received four more reapportionment proposals during the lengthy session—three in the House and one in the Senate. Hearings are underway in the Senate on its proposals, which now total five. Six are pending in the House, where hearings are expected to begin next week.

Charge Is Dismissed In Chester Slot Case

A charge of possession of gaming devices against Edward Huff, 64, steward of American Legion Post 121 of Chester who was cited April 21 when deputy sheriffs confiscated nine slot machines, was dismissed Wednesday by Squire John D. Herron.

Herron said there was no evidence to indicate the machines had been played and the deputies had not obtained a search and seizure warrant before confiscating the equipment.

Huff, who resides on 4th St., Chester, was represented by Atty. Callie Tsapis of Chester. Prosecuting Atty. Floyd Tarr appeared for the county.

Huff had pleaded innocent when originally arraigned late in April and had posted a $500 bond. Several continuances were granted to allow the defense time to prepare its case and because of the illness of witnesses.

Group Begins 2nd Business Area Survey

A volunteer committee working with the City Planning Commission launched a new survey Wednesday to gather data on the central business area to help preparation of an East Liverpool "master plan" by the firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates of Pittsburgh and Columbus.

Four-page questionnaires will be handed personally to most business and professional people in the area bounded by Jackson and Walnut Sts. on the east and west and 3rd St. and 8th St. on the north and south.

In the first attempt at a business area survey last fall, 200 questionnaires were distributed, but only 46 were returned. Acting at the request of the planning consultant, the Planning Commission then decided upon a new survey.

Without comprehensive data on the downtown, no intelligent plan can be drafted to revitalize the area, the commission explained.

Alvin T. Babb heads the central business area committee making the survey. Others working on the project are: Ralph A. Finley, Atty. Paul Tobin, Harry Martin, Maurice Rapport, Dr. Marvin Kinsey and E. R. Chandler.

Three of the four pages of the questionnaire are to be completed by the business and professional people and returned to the committee member who delivered them. The fourth page,

House Group Kills Wetzel Gambling Bill

A proposed amendment to the Ohio anti-gambling laws offered by State Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon was killed in a 12-3 vote of the House judiciary committee this morning at Columbus.

Wetzel's bill would have required proof that printers of order forms had knowledge of the intended illegal use of such forms for numbers slips or other gambling for conviction under the laws.

Among those testifying against the proposal was Mark McElroy, former Ohio attorney general who led a raid against the Lisbon Sales Book Co. in 1961 which resulted in indictments for printing numbers slips under the anti-gambling laws.

Rep. Wetzel testified at the hearing the threat of indictment against innocent publishers posed a restriction on business operations. He said the Lisbon firm has been considering enlargement of its operations at Lisbon should the legal matter be cleared, and would possibly add 100 jobs to the village economy.

A number of police officials from Cleveland, Akron and Columbus also testified against the bill.

Questions Would Be Discussed

Local, Wellsville Councils Invited To CATV Meeting

George A. Shaw, publisher and business manager of The Review and vice president of Columbiana CATV, Inc., today issued invitations to all members of the East Liverpool and Wellsville City Councils to attend a dinner meeting Tuesday night at 6:30 for discussion of questions that have arisen over granting of a second franchise for antenna television service in the two communities.

Shaw sent letters to the councilmen inviting them to the dinner session and discussion at the Travelers Hotel. He also invited James Coffey of Lewistown, Pa., an official of Rego Industries, Inc., at Hoboken, N. J. which was granted CATV franchises last fall in both East Liverpool and Wellsville.

In a statement explaining the invitations, Shaw said: "We hope that all members of both City Councils and Mr. Coffey can be present so that some of the questions which may have arisen in the Council members' minds as to the applications of Columbiana CATV can be resolved."

Columbiana CATV, owned jointly by The Review and Neptune Broadcasting Co. of Steubenville, filed an application for a CATV franchise with East Liverpool Council Monday night and followed through with a similar application to Wellsville Council Tuesday night.

"We feel that our proposal has considerable merit since it provides for a guarantee to be written directly into the ordinance of revenues to the cities of Wellsville and East Liverpool," Shaw said in his statement. "This written guarantee is not present under the Rego franchises. Also, Columbiana CATV

Calls For Unconditional Surrender

Dominican Junta Claims 'Full Control' Of Country

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican junta claimed "absolute control" of the country Wednesday night and called for unconditional surrender of the rebels.

"We have absolute control of the Dominican Republic," the junta president, Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, told a rally of about 1,000 cheering middle-and upper-class followers inside the U.S.-occupied international zone of Santo Dodomingo.

Limits Eyed On Debate Of Voting Bill

Mansfield, Dirksen Plan Petition On Friday For Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has announced plans to cut through talk on the voting-rights bill and put it to a vote.

The showdown on his drive for cloture — a strict limit on debate — will come next Tuesday, in the fifth week of Senate consideration of the administration-backed measure.

Joined by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, his partner in planning strategy on the bill, Mansfield will file a debate-limitation petition Friday. In the interim, he will be trying to round up the votes required for cloture — two-thirds of the senators voting on Tuesday.

If Mansfield succeeds, senators will be limited to an hour's speaking time each on the bill and all its amendments.

The Montanan announced his plans Wedneseay after he tried — and failed — to get the Senate to agree to limit debate on each remaining amendment to one hour and to vote on the measure Tuesday afternoon.

Mansfield was blocked by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., acting for Southern senators who contend the bill would strip states of their constitutional right to fix qualifications for voters.

Under the bill, literacy tests would be suspended in wide areas of the South and the federal government could appoint examiners to register voters.

Mansfield said he didn't know if he could get a two-thirds majority, but he said he thought the Senate had had the bill long enough. It got to the floor April 22.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, told reporters it would have been impossible to limit debate last week or this.

Hickenlooper declined to predict how he thinks the cloture effort will turn out next week. He described himself as not committed, but said he guesses he probably will vote to cut off debate.

If he does, the debate-limitation petition seems likely to succeed. Hickenlooper has voted with the South on some key amendments. He also has said the bill seems "completely unconstitutional."

During his 12-year reign he negotiated the first comprehensive profit-sharing plan and won extended 13-week vacations for senior workers in first the aluminum, then the can and steel industries.

One of his abiding interests was the problems of older workers and those who had retired. It was an interest that came from seeing an illness kill his father who was still at work in the mills at 72.

McDonald was one of the first labor leaders to win pension increases for workers long retired. His own pension, when he steps out June 1, will be $25,000 a year. As president he was paid $50,000.

Abel praised McDonald Wednesday at their joint news conference.

"Under your leadership we have made outstanding progress. I want you to know that these contributions are not only appreciated today but will be down through the years."

But despite their handshake and the absence of their former bitterness, there were indications that the old order already was changing.

One of McDonald's chief contributions was continuous, year-round bargaining conducted by the joint union-industry human relations committee. It was responsible for writing the 1963 contract without reopening the old one, a first for basic steel.

House Group Votes Repeal Of Auto Tax

4 Major Companies Say They'll Pass Any Cut To Buyers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has taken a long step beyond President Johnson's request and voted to repeal entirely the excise tax on passenger automobiles over the next four years.

The four major auto companies promptly announced they would pass any tax cuts on to buyers, which would mean an eventual price reduction on an average car of about $230. The present excise tax on cars is 10 per cent, and Johnson asked that it be cut to 5 per cent.

Tuesday's Ways and Means Committee action — if upheld by Congress — would bring the eventual revenue reduction to nearly $5 billion, $900 million more than Johnson had recommended in a special message to Congress Monday. The cut in the first year would be about the $1.75 billion urged by the President.

Swift congressional approval of excise tax cuts seems assured.

The House probably will vote on the measure the week of May 31, if leaders carry out present plans.

In the Senate, Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said the Finance Committee hopes to take up the bill right after the House acts and will hear only one witness — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler. Sen. Byrd said all potential witnesses favor the cuts.

The unusual speed is designed in large part to head off any slump in buying the many goods on which taxes would be eliminated July 1.

Following Johnson's recommendation, the House committee provided procedures by which people who bought autos or air conditioners before July 1 could get refunds.

In addition to these two items, a long list of goods, taxed for the most part at 10 per cent, would become tax free July 1 if the legislation is enacted by then.

Bill Designed To Curb Accidents

Vote Bans Hitch-Hikers From Ohio's Freeways

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An effort to open Ohio's freeways to hitch-hikers has been defeated by the Ohio Senate with passage of a measure designed to curb accidents on superhighways.

Senators gave 24-6 approval Wednesday to the proposal banning pedestrians, bicycles, and slow-moving vehicles from freeways with up to a $50 fine for the first offense.

Sen. Francis D. Sullivan, D-Cuyahoga, sought to amend the measure by Sen. Jim Thorpe R-Stark, to conform with present laws permitting hitch-hikers on highways so long as they stand off the roadway.

"My main concern is the many college students who hitch-hike home on the weekends. We shouldn't punish these young fellows," Sullivan argued.

Thorpe countered that his intent was to punish no one and added: "This is a safety measure. We might do the students more harm than good by allowing them on freeways with traffic moving 70 miles an hour."

The House voted overwhelming for an emergency measure calling for a comprehensive study of state and local tax laws.

Under the proposal, which now goes to the Senate, an 11-member bipartisan commission would be created to make the study and make recommendations by February 1, 1967.

The measure carries a $150,000 appropriation to pay for the study.

The legislature received four more reapportionment proposals during the lengthy session—three in the House and one in the Senate. Hearings are underway in the Senate on its proposals, which now total five. Six are pending in the House, where hearings are expected to begin next week.

Charge Is Dismissed In Chester Slot Case

A charge of possession of gaming devices against Edward Huff, 64, steward of American Legion Post 121 of Chester who was cited April 21 when deputy sheriffs confiscated nine slot machines, was dismissed Wednesday by Squire John D. Herron.

Herron said there was no evidence to indicate the machines had been played and the deputies had not obtained a search and seizure warrant before confiscating the equipment.

Huff, who resides on 4th St., Chester, was represented by Atty. Callie Tsapis of Chester. Prosecuting Atty. Floyd Tarr appeared for the county.

Huff had pleaded innocent when originally arraigned late in April and had posted a $500 bond. Several continuances were granted to allow the defense time to prepare its case and because of the illness of witnesses.

Group Begins 2nd Business Area Survey

A volunteer committee working with the City Planning Commission launched a new survey Wednesday to gather data on the central business area to help preparation of an East Liverpool "master plan" by the firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates of Pittsburgh and Columbus.

Four-page questionnaires will be handed personally to most business and professional people in the area bounded by Jackson and Walnut Sts. on the east and west and 3rd St. and 8th St. on the north and south.

In the first attempt at a business area survey last fall, 200 questionnaires were distributed, but only 46 were returned. Acting at the request of the planning consultant, the Planning Commission then decided upon a new survey.

Without comprehensive data on the downtown, no intelligent plan can be drafted to revitalize the area, the commission explained.

Alvin T. Babb heads the central business area committee making the survey. Others working on the project are: Ralph A. Finley, Atty. Paul Tobin, Harry Martin, Maurice Rapport, Dr. Marvin Kinsey and E. R. Chandler.

Three of the four pages of the questionnaire are to be completed by the business and professional people and returned to the committee member who delivered them. The fourth page,

House Group Kills Wetzel Gambling Bill

A proposed amendment to the Ohio anti-gambling laws offered by State Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon was killed in a 12-3 vote of the House judiciary committee this morning at Columbus.

Wetzel's bill would have required proof that printers of order forms had knowledge of the intended illegal use of such forms for numbers slips or other gambling for conviction under the laws.

Among those testifying against the proposal was Mark McElroy, former Ohio attorney general who led a raid against the Lisbon Sales Book Co. in 1961 which resulted in indictments for printing numbers slips under the anti-gambling laws.

Rep. Wetzel testified at the hearing the threat of indictment against innocent publishers posed a restriction on business operations. He said the Lisbon firm has been considering enlargement of its operations at Lisbon should the legal matter be cleared, and would possibly add 100 jobs to the village economy.

A number of police officials from Cleveland, Akron and Columbus also testified against the bill.

Questions Would Be Discussed

Local, Wellsville Councils Invited To CATV Meeting

George A. Shaw, publisher and business manager of The Review and vice president of Columbiana CATV, Inc., today issued invitations to all members of the East Liverpool and Wellsville City Councils to attend a dinner meeting Tuesday night at 6:30 for discussion of questions that have arisen over granting of a second franchise for antenna television service in the two communities.

Shaw sent letters to the councilmen inviting them to the dinner session and discussion at the Travelers Hotel. He also invited James Coffey of Lewistown, Pa., an official of Rego Industries, Inc., at Hoboken, N. J. which was granted CATV franchises last fall in both East Liverpool and Wellsville.

In a statement explaining the invitations, Shaw said: "We hope that all members of both City Councils and Mr. Coffey can be present so that some of the questions which may have arisen in the Council members' minds as to the applications of Columbiana CATV can be resolved."

Columbiana CATV, owned jointly by The Review and Neptune Broadcasting Co. of Steubenville, filed an application for a CATV franchise with East Liverpool Council Monday night and followed through with a similar application to Wellsville Council Tuesday night.

"We feel that our proposal has considerable merit since it provides for a guarantee to be written directly into the ordinance of revenues to the cities of Wellsville and East Liverpool," Shaw said in his statement. "This written guarantee is not present under the Rego franchises. Also, Columbiana CATV

Flood Gauge Work Begins

A State Highway Department crew today started installation of supports for a new East Liverpool flood gauge on the downstream side of the Chester Bridge pier nearest the Ohio side of the Ohio River.

The state will erect angle iron supports and a heavy plank, comprising most of the gauge. Vernon Houghton of the Federal - State Flood Forecasting Service in Pittsburgh will furnish enamel numerals for the gauge.

When starting work today, the state crew requested that two firemen be stationed in a boat in the river near the pier in case any of the workers falls into the stream.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, who arranged the joint state-federal project, said a second gauge will be erected on the Ohio shore near the bridge. Houghton also has promised to furnish the numerals for the second gauge, he said. Houghton indicated he would come to East Liverpool today with the numerals.

Installation of the new gauge has been sought for several years by the city and Houghton — ever since completion of the Stratton dam led to razing of former Dam 8 near Newell.

Chet Long of Columbus, a newsman, will be guest speaker during commencement exercises Friday at 8:15 p. m. for Stanton Local High School at Hammondsville.

Long was born in Sullivan, Ind., and during World War II served with the Navy in radio publicity work for various recruiting offices.

He is interested in dramatics and studied under a scholarship at the University of Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. He became associated with radio in Cincinnati.

In 1945 he joined a Columbus station and in 1949 a television station there.

He has traveled extensively during his news career. In 1951 he was in Europe covering the activities of the North Atlantic Defense Command; more recently he was in Germany on a special on-the-spot assignment during the Berlin crisis, and has covered stories in Japan, Korea, Alaska and Cape Canaveral.

In making Columbus Day presentations, he has visited many countries, including Italy, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Haiti and the Bahams. He frequently attends State Department briefings in Washington.

Group Discusses Watchman Need At Chester Park

The need for a watchman to reside in a trailer home at the Chester City Park was discussed during a meeting of the Park Commission Wednesday night at the park.

Harold Dickey, chairman, said recent vandalism has damaged park equipment and a watchman would help curb the offenses.

The city will provide utilities for a trailer home and an excellent parking space. Charles Ridenour had agreed earlier to act as watchman, but resigned, Dickey said.

Anyone interested in the position may notify Dickey.

The commission authorized repairs to a sliding board wrecked by vandals.

Plans were made for the erection of two shelter houses, about 12 by 30 feet, when money owed the park by the Sanitation Board for the sewage plant is paid.

The next meeting will be June 2.

Bill Seeks Transfer Of Steubenville Land

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Douglas Applegate, D-Jefferson, has introduced in the House a bill to transfer 20 acres of county infirmary land in the west end of Steubenville to county commissioners as the site for a new children's home.

Applegate said when he offered the measure Wednesday that it is designed to overcome a recent ruling by Common Pleas Judge John J. Griesenger preventing the land transfer.

Key Club's Work Reviewed During Kiwanis Meeting

Key Club activities were reviewed by David Burns and Everett Waite at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

Burns discussed the recent Key Club convention at Cleveland.

Waite reviewed the program of the past year and the proposed plans for the coming year.

For fund projects, members of the club sold candy, seat pads and napkins. The club kept a scrapbook of activities, encouraged church attendance of members, sent Christmas greeting cards to schoolteachers, provided gifts for children in foster homes, assisted the Kiwanis in the Christmas tree sale, purchased and erected a tree at the high school, cleaned the high school trophy case, conducted the house-to-house canvass for the Heart Fund, aided in the Cancer Fund drive and assisted Kiwanis in its Junior Olympics program.

The club plans to conduct most of the activities again the coming year.

Twenty-one attended. Myron Weis, president, conducted business.

Officers Find Truck Stolen At Block Plant

East Liverpool police found a truck abandoned at 1:50 a. m. today at the Ralston's Crossing underpass on State St. at the River Rd. and then learned it had been stolen from a concrete plant a short distance away.

Patrolman J. F. Strobel located the 1955 model three-quarter-ton vehicle, then made a check that disclosed it had been taken from a garage at the Volino Brothers Block Works on State St., police said. The vehicle was registered in the name of Ralph Volino.

Police said the owners did not know of the truck's theft prior to its recovery. The vehicle was taken sometime after 6 p. m. Wednesday, police said.

Officers Find Truck Stolen At Block Plant

East Liverpool police found a truck abandoned at 1:50 a. m. today at the Ralston's Crossing underpass on State St. at the River Rd. and then learned it had been stolen from a concrete plant a short distance away.

Patrolman J. F. Strobel located the 1955 model three-quarter-ton vehicle, then made a check that disclosed it had been taken from a garage at the Volino Brothers Block Works on State St., police said. The vehicle was registered in the name of Ralph Volino.

Police said the owners did not know of the truck's theft prior to its recovery. The vehicle was taken sometime after 6 p. m. Wednesday, police said.

Should Things Be Reversed?

There is disappointment in Washington because a six-day suspension of bombing raids against the undeclared enemy in Viet Nam produced no peace overtures from Hanoi. What did Washington expect?

This is the kind of tactical disappointment that catches us armchair tacticians off balance. We don't understand the psychology.

It strikes us that a better way to elicit peace overtures from an enemy, either declared or undeclared, would be to step up the intensity of bombing attacks day by day, letting it be known each day that tomorrow would bring worse.

But it also has struck us that bombing attacks against targets that are not factories, oil fields, shipyards, or heavily populated neighborhoods of industrial workers—all prime targets in World War II—are likely to be useless.

Only the United States could afford to blow up palm trees, rice paddies and bamboo huts with bombs worth more than their targets, planes worth a million dollars apiece and pilots whose individual training alone cost more than all the property they are likely to destroy and whose value is 100 times or more greater than the bomb fodder they destroy.

Perhaps this experience with aerial attack in Viet Nam will settle a claim that has been unsettled too long for comfort—the claim that air power alone can win a war.

The claim was made in World War II. But air power couldn't do the job. It finally had to be done by ground troops slogging through mud and shedding blood and sacrificing life in the same old-fashioned way.

The claim was made again in the Korean War, where air power was kept under close restrictions lest it escalate the enemy action ever faster than Gen. MacArthur's approach to the Yalu River.

Helicopters were going to take care of the military issue in Viet Nam; that was the original plan. But ground troops then were required to protect the air power. And now U.S. ground troops are expected to go into direct ground assault against Viet Cong guerrilas.

Why was Washington puzzled when Hano didn't ask for peace terms after a six-day layoff? Wouldn't it be more reasonable to expect surrender negotiations after a 60-day assault?

Isn't there always the possibility in a situation like this that the undeclared enemy of the second part is at least as brave and determined as the undeclared enemy of the first part?

Case For The OSES

The East Liverpool office of the Ohio State Employment Service has taken exception to uncomplimentary remarks directed at it by a reader in Tuesday's "Letter To The Editor" column in The Review.

And Charles B. Boso, director of the OSES here, has evidence in the form of official correspondence to back up his claim that the charges made by Mrs. Joyce Leek of Salineville are without basis. He explained the OSES regulations prevent his answering her letter himself.

After studying the OSES files on the case in question, it seems only fair to say a few words on behalf of Mr. Boso and his staff in their efforts to obtain suitable employment for the veteran concerned.

There's no question in our mind that the proper placement procedure has been followed.

As Mr. Boso pointed out, the OSES doesn't hire, but serves as a referral agency. And, as he explained further, there are few more interested in obtaining employment for veterans than himself. His statement makes sense, since he at present is commander of American Legion Post 4. Also, figures show that the employment of veterans in the area increased 15 per cent last year over 1963.

Mr. Boso has made an able defense for the OSES in its handling of veterans' placements.

Statutory Tax Study

The Ohio General Assembly seems to be favorably impressed by the proposal for an official tax study that could not be filed and forgotten.

Strong support has been found for a proposed emergency law to study state and local tax structures, with a view to recommendations that would have to be submitted and acted on by Ohio legislators.

Interest has been added to the idea of this kind of statutory study by the willingness of Ohio voters to add to the state's bonded debt for new public facilities. All the institutions to be built with capital funds raised through bonded debt will have to be staffed.

The cost of staffing them must be met out of current revenue. This means more tax revenue.

More tax revenue must be obtained either by increases in the productivity of taxes already in existence, or by new taxes.

An official tax study would reveal which alternative, or what combination of elements from both alternatives would be required to pay for the state's foreseeable needs.

By making the study a statutory state function, the Ohio General Assembly would avoid the pitfall into which Gov. DiSalle marched with his administrative study of income and outgo. He made tax increases a proposal of his administration, thereby turning it into a partisan issue.

An official study would get around this danger by making the recommendations and findings a bipartisan matter. It would not be one political party's idea but the official report of a state commission.

Take Your Choice

The appearance of two wagon teams in the area Tuesday strengthens ones respect for the hardy folk of pioneer days.

Transportation being what it is today, it's difficult to accept the fact that wagon trains once were a principal method of travel.

Hardy the pioneers must have been. They couldn't have been anything else to tackle and conquer the vast expanses of rugged country which blocked their passage to the west coast.

A thought comes to mind, however. Despite the obstacles they faced, perhaps they were better off at that than many of us today.

Modern day living is far from a bed of roses. It's a question of whether you would prefer to take your chances with Indians and rough terrain or crazy drivers, mechanical failures and the countless other problems of the motor age.

Spies, Spies, Spies

By Truman Twill

Respect for J. Edgar Hoover's official career is not diminished by an occasional questioning comment on his remarks.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is not immune to public reaction.

This is contrary to the position of the man's fiery defenders who regard everything he says as ex cathedra pronouncements from on high.

But it is in keeping with the credo of popular sovereignty that means, simply translated, that ordinary people have a right to comment on extraordinary people. So here goes:

Mr. Hoover told a subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee a few days ago that spies are in almost every Soviet group that visits the United States.

He said the FBI had found representatives of the KGB, the intelligence service of the Russian government, in practically every cultural exchange group or student group.

Scientific delegations, he declared, invariably contain scientists who have been given special assignments by the KGB. When these people go back home, he asserted, they are required to submit comprehensive reports of everything they saw.

Mr. Hoover further said exchange students from Russia are under KGB orders to keep their ears and eyes open for everything that might be interesting to Soviet intelligence experts.

Russian newspaper people working in the United States are under FBI suspicion. More than half of them, Mr. Hoover said, are Soviet intelligence agents.

This is a formidable rate of spying.

The question is whether anything can be done about it, short of putting up an "iron curtain" to bar Soviet intelligence agents and everybody else who might spy on the United States from entering.

More than that, the question is whether this psychopathic spying on everything that goes on here is really psychopathic curiosity — the intense wonderment of people about other people.

Americans are equally curious about Russians. So is our government.

Russians fascinate us. We do everything in our power to learn more about them and everything going on in Russia. Our Central Intelligence Agency and all other information - gathering outfits try tirelessly to learn what is going on there — and we hope they are now doing as good a job as they formerly did with U2 spy planes before that jig was up.

Spying is a way of international life. The United States spies on everybody else and everybody else spies on us. It would be simpler if all governments admitted this and held open house.

But if they did that, there would be large-scale unemployment among spies and governments would have nothing to hold against other governments when they wanted to hold them up to public opprobrium.

Mr. Hoover knows what he is talking about. He is an expert. Russian spies everywhere. Snooping night and day. Recording everything they see and blabbing it to the KGB. But short of resorting to an "iron curtain," what can the United States do about it?

What does the United States want to do about it in the light of the fact it has allowed these people to come here to learn more about the United States.

Agonizing Reappraisal

Oriental Union Stalls Viet Supplies

By Victor Riesel

A tense pre-dawn, trans-Pacific telephone call from Yokohama early Sunday, May 16, dramatized a logistic problem haunting our military in the Orient, and especially South Viet Nam.

Victor Riesel

The call came from the National Maritime Union's (NMU) representative in Japan. His massage relayed the grim news to NMU leader Joe Curran that the U.S. movement of vital ammunition and heavy equipment was being slowed by tactics of the huge Japanese labor federation known as SOHYO, and by seamen on Okinawa.

This 454-square-mile Ryukyu island is America's chief military base in the Far East.

Several times Japanese and Ryukyu seamen have refused to sign on American LSTs or have actually vetoed the loading of ammunition on ships bound for South Viet Nam.

For months now the All-Japanese Seamen's Union has discouraged its members from signing on the 17 LSTs which run from Japan to Okinawa and then on to South Viet Nam.

THE U. S. SUPPLY lines have therefore been clogged because it has been American policy to give well-paying jobs to as many Japanese workers as possible.

For the LST run, the Military Sea Transportation Service has hired 800 Japanese sailors. They've been hard to find because of SOHYO's opposition.

This is just the beginning of supply specialists. The Japanese government is insisting that the U.S. first move troops, stationed in Japan, to Okinawa before they and their equipment can be sped to South Viet Nam.

Thus, smooth operation in the Okinawan port — and capital, Naha — is vital. But there ships' crews have refused to take on ammunition for the American soldiers in South Viet Nam. Some of the island's longshoremen, who have demonstrated against the U.S. during past May Day celebrations, also have refused to handle ammunition.

When the military threatened to dismiss the balky longshoremen, a threat of a general strike developed. The men said the ammunition was too dangerous.

THEN CAME the afternoon of Saturday, May 15. They refused to load a huge crane and other equipment aboard the American LST 531. Some of the crew reportedly refused to handle the equipment, though not even a firecracker was on the docks or in the cargo.

Word was sped to Jim Patterson, the NMU's man in Yokohama. He flashed the news to big Joe Curran here. What had angered Curran is the Military Sea Transportation Service's policy of hiring Japanese, many unskilled, while several hundred NMU members are jobless "on the beach" in Japan.

Furthermore, Curran points out, there are more than 10,000 unemployed seamen here in the states. Virtually all of them are fine sailors and have the precious Coast Guard security clearance.

"We have these thousands of American sailors willing to work the ships and run into danger to help the young fighting men in Viet Nam," Joe Curran said after receiving the trans-Pacific call. "We're fighting for freedom and we should count on our own people, our own citizens, not the untested, unskilled and politicalized Japanese who obviously aren't that nation's best seamen."

CURRAN and his colleagues point to the wild demonstrations which the left wing of Japanese labor has organized against the U.S. On April 26, SOHYO, which is the base of the ultra leftist Socialist party, helped put 25,000 rioters into Tokyo's streets to shout against our policy in Viet Nam, our docking of atomic subs in Japan and for the return of Okinawa to Japan.

Also though not publicized, there is a SOHYO letter in the files of the AFL-CIO, of which Curran is a national vice president. In this communication, SOHYO, many of whose people are raising relief for North Viet Nam, praises what it calls the workers' peace, happiness and freedom in Russia. This letter also attacks America's involvement in Viet Nam.

There is substance to Curran's anger and demand that we rush American seamen to the Orient to keep the vital ships sailing. For our men in Okinawa this is a life line indeed.

The Monroe Doctrine

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Monroe Doctrine of 1823 was a rather pallid piece of paper until President Theodore Roosevelt put some decorations of his own on it.

Since then the United States, on and off, has had troubles with Latin-American countries, including the Dominican Republic where rebels now are fighting a conservative junta.

President Johnson's efforts to get the Dominican people to agree on a coalition government with representatives from both sides would be one way of saving the United States from being tagged antirebel and proconservative.

It wouldn't be the first time the United States tried something like that in Latin America.

But whenever it happened, just as now, it was intervention in the affairs of another nation. It's one of the reasons the Dominican people reportedly have been growing anti-American by the day.

The Monroe Doctrine simply told the Europeans to keep hands off Latin America without saying whether or not the United States would ever interfere.

Actually it butted into Latin-American problems for years, sometimes outrageously, which built up a long history of anti-American feeling.

While the United States ran the show in the Dominican Republic it trained a constabulary or military force, sometimes called a national guard, headed by Gen. Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Molina.

(The Marines spent 19 years in Nicaragua and built up a constabulary there under Gen. Anastasio Somoza.)

Within a few years after the Americans withdrew from the Dominican Republic, Trujillo took over. His dictatorship, and it was about as total as any in Latin-American history, lasted 31 years until he was shot in 1961.

After the Marines left Nicaragua, Somoza took over and his dictatorship lasted 20 years until he was shot in 1956.

But, for that matter, the United States had quite a history of friendliness and support for dictators. In 1954, for instance, it decorated Marcos Perez Jiminez, the Venezuelan dictator, with the Order of Merit. He was driven out two years later and the United States gave him refuge in Miami.

This didn't add to American popularity, either. The rebels, fighting the conservative junta in the Dominican Republic, included all shades of thinking.

Johnson said the Marines were there to prevent a Communist takeover. Since the junta was conservative, this meant the Reds had to be among the rebels, and the effect was to make Johnson look antirebel and proconservative. He got a bad reaction in many places.

After a couple of weeks his administration, anxious to restore peace but undoubtedly equally anxious to avoid the appearance of preserving conservatives or reactionaries, sought to get both sides to agree to a coalition government. It didn't succeed. And, up to this point, it's stuck with the revolution.

A Worker's Rights

By David Lawrence

Johnson Proposal Termed Violation Of Freedom

President Johnson has just asked Congress to pass a law that would, in effect, take away the civil rights of the American workingman by coercing him into joining a labor union. If he refuses, he will be punished either by losing his job or by being denied a job in the future in any plant or factory or business establishment where such a union contract with the employer exists.

David Lawrence

The proposal, if enacted into law, would wipe out overnight the laws passed by 19 states forbidding compulsory unionization and upholding the right of the individual to work anywhere without being required to give up his conscientious beliefs.

The Supreme Court of the United States has again and again affirmed the right of a citizen to "freedom of belief." There are many citizens, including some in religious groups, who conscientiously believe that they should not be compelled to join any organization of a private nature.

President Johnson, in his message to Congress this week, did not make any reference to the constitutional rights of the citizen, nor did he answer any of the objections frequently raised in the past that the right to work is a civil right.

IN FACT, Mr. Johnson, although discussing at length a wider coverage of the minimum-wage law, restrictions on "excessive overtime work" and changes in the unemployment insurance program, made no comprehensive explanation of why he wants Congress to eliminate the right-to-work laws of the National Labor Relations Act. He said in part:

"Finally, with the hope of reducing conflicts in our national labor policy that for several years have divided Americans in various states, I recommend the repeal of section 14 (B) of the Taft-Hartley Act with such other technical changes as are made necessary by this action."

Although the President submitted the drafts of bills for the other changes that he requested, he did not do so with respect to the amendment that would abolish right-to-work laws. He merely said:

"Bills embodying the third (proposal) have already been introduced in Congress."

There is hardly any phase of the problem of labor-management relations about which it could not be said that the issues "for several years have divided Americans in several states."

IT IS RARE INDEED that an important piece of legislation—such as the abolition of civil rights—doesn't get any more extended explanation from the chief executive than was contained in the message submitted to Congress on Tuesday of this week.

While Congress has been aware of many abuses that have occurred in the exercise of labor-union power, it has lately avoided corrective measures. In fact, the amount of pressure exerted by labor unions on Congress and on the executive branch of the government has been considerable. It's commonly believed that much of the labor-union influence is due to the amount of money collected from labor-union members and contributed to congressional and presidential campaigns.

The federal government, moreover, has been lax in enforcing the Federal Corrupt Practices Act. The labor unions get around some of the prohibitions in the existing law by appointing special committees, but it is well known that the salaries of many of the workers on these committees are paid out of union dues, and the existing statute forbids labor unions and corporations to make any political contributions and defines a "contribution" as "anything of value."

THE WORKERS in 19 states who have been free from coercion now may face a compulsory-unionized program. Theoretically, a worker who is employed in a business that is not interstate in character could still refuse to join a union under existing state laws but the phrase "interstate commerce" has been broadened so much in the recent civil rights law in order to remove racial discrimination in hiring employes that it may be doubted whether any substantial number of jobs in any state could be classed today as outstanding federal jurisdiction.

It's indeed ironical that discrimination can be prohibited by reason of race or religion or color but that discrimination is to be permitted as a worker is compelled to join a union or lose his job whenever the union gets the upper hand in any business or industry.

In Russia, every plant or factory is dominated by members of the Communist party. In America, the law which compels a worker to join a union could perhaps be similarly utilized to require a worker, in effect, to give his support to the political party which the labor union endorses or to risk the disfavor of union chiefs in the plant where he works.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

On Saturday the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be selling poppies in East Liverpool. It should cut into the hearts of all to know just how small the amounts given to this purpose are.

On Memorial Day we will march to the cemeteries to pay tribute to those who gave their lives to save ours, yet the thousands of men and women who are in government hospitals are almost forgotten.

Most of them are disabled for life as far as earning a living. Yet we have the nerve to walk past the man, woman or child selling poppies and either not buy or just drop in a few pennies or a nickel.

I wonder if the public knows where the money goes from the sale of the VFW "Buddy Poppy"?

Out of each dollar, 45 cents goes to the Post and Auxiliary relief funds; 17 cents to the department for carrying out service rehabilitation work; 10 cents to the VFW National Home; 10 cents to the national service rehabilitation fund; 12 cents for the cost of materials in making up the poppies and shipping them; three cents for the cost of literature, printing and promotion, and three cents to the disabled veterans who assist in the assembling of the poppies.

Stop and think, then go out on May 22 and give.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The 1965 National Police Week is now a thing of the past. After all the ceremonies and tributes are over, police officers are still patrolling in cruisers and covering their beats as they do 52 weeks, year in and year out.

Many of us are quick to praise the police officer one week a year, but even quicker to criticize them the remaining 51 weeks. Too few people realize or appreciate the possibility of danger that policemen must work and live with 24 hours a day. Every action they take carries the potential of injury or death, no matter how trivial it may seem.

I believe strongly in a national week of formal recognition for the work that police officers perform. But, I believe even more strongly that every week of the year we should be thankful that they are there and ready for the time when any one of us may need them.

The appearance of two wagon teams in the area Tuesday strengthens ones respect for the hardy folk of pioneer days.

Transportation being what it is today, it's difficult to accept the fact that wagon trains once were a principal method of travel.

Hardy the pioneers must have been. They couldn't have been anything else to tackle and conquer the vast expanses of rugged country which blocked their passage to the west coast.

A thought comes to mind, however. Despite the obstacles they faced, perhaps they were better off at that than many of us today.

Modern day living is far from a bed of roses. It's a question of whether you would prefer to take your chances with Indians and rough terrain or crazy drivers, mechanical failures and the countless other problems of the motor age.

Spies, Spies, Spies

By Truman Twill

Respect for J. Edgar Hoover's official career is not diminished by an occasional questioning comment on his remarks.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is not immune to public reaction.

This is contrary to the position of the man's fiery defenders who regard everything he says as ex cathedra pronouncements from on high.

But it is in keeping with the credo of popular sovereignty that means, simply translated, that ordinary people have a right to comment on extraordinary people. So here goes:

Mr. Hoover told a subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee a few days ago that spies are in almost every Soviet group that visits the United States.

He said the FBI had found representatives of the KGB, the intelligence service of the Russian government, in practically every cultural exchange group or student group.

Scientific delegations, he declared, invariably contain scientists who have been given special assignments by the KGB. When these people go back home, he asserted, they are required to submit comprehensive reports of everything they saw.

Mr. Hoover further said exchange students from Russia are under KGB orders to keep their ears and eyes open for everything that might be interesting to Soviet intelligence experts.

Russian newspaper people working in the United States are under FBI suspicion. More than half of them, Mr. Hoover said, are Soviet intelligence agents.

This is a formidable rate of spying.

The question is whether anything can be done about it, short of putting up an "iron curtain" to bar Soviet intelligence agents and everybody else who might spy on the United States from entering.

More than that, the question is whether this psychopathic spying on everything that goes on here is really psychopathic curiosity — the intense wonderment of people about other people.

Americans are equally curious about Russians. So is our government.

Russians fascinate us. We do everything in our power to learn more about them and everything going on in Russia. Our Central Intelligence Agency and all other information - gathering outfits try tirelessly to learn what is going on there — and we hope they are now doing as good a job as they formerly did with U2 spy planes before that jig was up.

Spying is a way of international life. The United States spies on everybody else and everybody else spies on us. It would be simpler if all governments admitted this and held open house.

But if they did that, there would be large-scale unemployment among spies and governments would have nothing to hold against other governments when they wanted to hold them up to public opprobrium.

Mr. Hoover knows what he is talking about. He is an expert. Russian spies everywhere. Snooping night and day. Recording everything they see and blabbing it to the KGB. But short of resorting to an "iron curtain," what can the United States do about it?

What does the United States want to do about it in the light of the fact it has allowed these people to come here to learn more about the United States.

This 'n That

Of all of history's countless wars, the longest was the "Hundred Years War" between England and France, which lasted from 1338 to 1453, or 115 years.

Largest of the nine major planets is Jupiter, with a mass 318,790 times that of our earth. Smallest planet is Mercury, with a mass only 1-18 that of the earth.

Agonizing Reappraisal

Oriental Union Stalls Viet Supplies

By Victor Riesel

A tense pre-dawn, trans-Pacific telephone call from Yokohama early Sunday, May 16, dramatized a logistic problem haunting our military in the Orient, and especially South Viet Nam.

Victor Riesel

The call came from the National Maritime Union's (NMU) representative in Japan. His massage relayed the grim news to NMU leader Joe Curran that the U.S. movement of vital ammunition and heavy equipment was being slowed by tactics of the huge Japanese labor federation known as SOHYO, and by seamen on Okinawa.

This 454-square-mile Ryukyu island is America's chief military base in the Far East.

Several times Japanese and Ryukyu seamen have refused to sign on American LSTs or have actually vetoed the loading of ammunition on ships bound for South Viet Nam.

For months now the All-Japanese Seamen's Union has discouraged its members from signing on the 17 LSTs which run from Japan to Okinawa and then on to South Viet Nam.

THE U. S. SUPPLY lines have therefore been clogged because it has been American policy to give well-paying jobs to as many Japanese workers as possible.

For the LST run, the Military Sea Transportation Service has hired 800 Japanese sailors. They've been hard to find because of SOHYO's opposition.

This is just the beginning of supply specialists. The Japanese government is insisting that the U.S. first move troops, stationed in Japan, to Okinawa before they and their equipment can be sped to South Viet Nam.

Thus, smooth operation in the Okinawan port — and capital, Naha — is vital. But there ships' crews have refused to take on ammunition for the American soldiers in South Viet Nam. Some of the island's longshoremen, who have demonstrated against the U.S. during past May Day celebrations, also have refused to handle ammunition.

When the military threatened to dismiss the balky longshoremen, a threat of a general strike developed. The men said the ammunition was too dangerous.

THEN CAME the afternoon of Saturday, May 15. They refused to load a huge crane and other equipment aboard the American LST 531. Some of the crew reportedly refused to handle the equipment, though not even a firecracker was on the docks or in the cargo.

Word was sped to Jim Patterson, the NMU's man in Yokohama. He flashed the news to big Joe Curran here. What had angered Curran is the Military Sea Transportation Service's policy of hiring Japanese, many unskilled, while several hundred NMU members are jobless "on the beach" in Japan.

Furthermore, Curran points out, there are more than 10,000 unemployed seamen here in the states. Virtually all of them are fine sailors and have the precious Coast Guard security clearance.

"We have these thousands of American sailors willing to work the ships and run into danger to help the young fighting men in Viet Nam," Joe Curran said after receiving the trans-Pacific call. "We're fighting for freedom and we should count on our own people, our own citizens, not the untested, unskilled and politicalized Japanese who obviously aren't that nation's best seamen."

CURRAN and his colleagues point to the wild demonstrations which the left wing of Japanese labor has organized against the U.S. On April 26, SOHYO, which is the base of the ultra leftist Socialist party, helped put 25,000 rioters into Tokyo's streets to shout against our policy in Viet Nam, our docking of atomic subs in Japan and for the return of Okinawa to Japan.

Also though not publicized, there is a SOHYO letter in the files of the AFL-CIO, of which Curran is a national vice president. In this communication, SOHYO, many of whose people are raising relief for North Viet Nam, praises what it calls the workers' peace, happiness and freedom in Russia. This letter also attacks America's involvement in Viet Nam.

There is substance to Curran's anger and demand that we rush American seamen to the Orient to keep the vital ships sailing. For our men in Okinawa this is a life line indeed.

The Monroe Doctrine

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Monroe Doctrine of 1823 was a rather pallid piece of paper until President Theodore Roosevelt put some decorations of his own on it.

Since then the United States, on and off, has had troubles with Latin-American countries, including the Dominican Republic where rebels now are fighting a conservative junta.

President Johnson's efforts to get the Dominican people to agree on a coalition government with representatives from both sides would be one way of saving the United States from being tagged antirebel and proconservative.

It wouldn't be the first time the United States tried something like that in Latin America.

But whenever it happened, just as now, it was intervention in the affairs of another nation. It's one of the reasons the Dominican people reportedly have been growing anti-American by the day.

The Monroe Doctrine simply told the Europeans to keep hands off Latin America without saying whether or not the United States would ever interfere.

Actually it butted into Latin-American problems for years, sometimes outrageously, which built up a long history of anti-American feeling.

While the United States ran the show in the Dominican Republic it trained a constabulary or military force, sometimes called a national guard, headed by Gen. Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Molina.

(The Marines spent 19 years in Nicaragua and built up a constabulary there under Gen. Anastasio Somoza.)

Within a few years after the Americans withdrew from the Dominican Republic, Trujillo took over. His dictatorship, and it was about as total as any in Latin-American history, lasted 31 years until he was shot in 1961.

After the Marines left Nicaragua, Somoza took over and his dictatorship lasted 20 years until he was shot in 1956.

But, for that matter, the United States had quite a history of friendliness and support for dictators. In 1954, for instance, it decorated Marcos Perez Jiminez, the Venezuelan dictator, with the Order of Merit. He was driven out two years later and the United States gave him refuge in Miami.

This didn't add to American popularity, either. The rebels, fighting the conservative junta in the Dominican Republic, included all shades of thinking.

Johnson said the Marines were there to prevent a Communist takeover. Since the junta was conservative, this meant the Reds had to be among the rebels, and the effect was to make Johnson look antirebel and proconservative. He got a bad reaction in many places.

After a couple of weeks his administration, anxious to restore peace but undoubtedly equally anxious to avoid the appearance of preserving conservatives or reactionaries, sought to get both sides to agree to a coalition government. It didn't succeed. And, up to this point, it's stuck with the revolution.

A Worker's Rights

By David Lawrence

Johnson Proposal Termed Violation Of Freedom

President Johnson has just asked Congress to pass a law that would, in effect, take away the civil rights of the American workingman by coercing him into joining a labor union. If he refuses, he will be punished either by losing his job or by being denied a job in the future in any plant or factory or business establishment where such a union contract with the employer exists.

David Lawrence

The proposal, if enacted into law, would wipe out overnight the laws passed by 19 states forbidding compulsory unionization and upholding the right of the individual to work anywhere without being required to give up his conscientious beliefs.

The Supreme Court of the United States has again and again affirmed the right of a citizen to "freedom of belief." There are many citizens, including some in religious groups, who conscientiously believe that they should not be compelled to join any organization of a private nature.

President Johnson, in his message to Congress this week, did not make any reference to the constitutional rights of the citizen, nor did he answer any of the objections frequently raised in the past that the right to work is a civil right.

IN FACT, Mr. Johnson, although discussing at length a wider coverage of the minimum-wage law, restrictions on "excessive overtime work" and changes in the unemployment insurance program, made no comprehensive explanation of why he wants Congress to eliminate the right-to-work laws of the National Labor Relations Act. He said in part:

"Finally, with the hope of reducing conflicts in our national labor policy that for several years have divided Americans in various states, I recommend the repeal of section 14 (B) of the Taft-Hartley Act with such other technical changes as are made necessary by this action."

Although the President submitted the drafts of bills for the other changes that he requested, he did not do so with respect to the amendment that would abolish right-to-work laws. He merely said:

"Bills embodying the third (proposal) have already been introduced in Congress."

There is hardly any phase of the problem of labor-management relations about which it could not be said that the issues "for several years have divided Americans in several states."

IT IS RARE INDEED that an important piece of legislation—such as the abolition of civil rights—doesn't get any more extended explanation from the chief executive than was contained in the message submitted to Congress on Tuesday of this week.

While Congress has been aware of many abuses that have occurred in the exercise of labor-union power, it has lately avoided corrective measures. In fact, the amount of pressure exerted by labor unions on Congress and on the executive branch of the government has been considerable. It's commonly believed that much of the labor-union influence is due to the amount of money collected from labor-union members and contributed to congressional and presidential campaigns.

The federal government, moreover, has been lax in enforcing the Federal Corrupt Practices Act. The labor unions get around some of the prohibitions in the existing law by appointing special committees, but it is well known that the salaries of many of the workers on these committees are paid out of union dues, and the existing statute forbids labor unions and corporations to make any political contributions and defines a "contribution" as "anything of value."

THE WORKERS in 19 states who have been free from coercion now may face a compulsory-unionized program. Theoretically, a worker who is employed in a business that is not interstate in character could still refuse to join a union under existing state laws but the phrase "interstate commerce" has been broadened so much in the recent civil rights law in order to remove racial discrimination in hiring employes that it may be doubted whether any substantial number of jobs in any state could be classed today as outstanding federal jurisdiction.

It's indeed ironical that discrimination can be prohibited by reason of race or religion or color but that discrimination is to be permitted as a worker is compelled to join a union or lose his job whenever the union gets the upper hand in any business or industry.

In Russia, every plant or factory is dominated by members of the Communist party. In America, the law which compels a worker to join a union could perhaps be similarly utilized to require a worker, in effect, to give his support to the political party which the labor union endorses or to risk the disfavor of union chiefs in the plant where he works.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

On Saturday the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be selling poppies in East Liverpool. It should cut into the hearts of all to know just how small the amounts given to this purpose are.

On Memorial Day we will march to the cemeteries to pay tribute to those who gave their lives to save ours, yet the thousands of men and women who are in government hospitals are almost forgotten.

Most of them are disabled for life as far as earning a living. Yet we have the nerve to walk past the man, woman or child selling poppies and either not buy or just drop in a few pennies or a nickel.

I wonder if the public knows where the money goes from the sale of the VFW "Buddy Poppy"?

Out of each dollar, 45 cents goes to the Post and Auxiliary relief funds; 17 cents to the department for carrying out service rehabilitation work; 10 cents to the VFW National Home; 10 cents to the national service rehabilitation fund; 12 cents for the cost of materials in making up the poppies and shipping them; three cents for the cost of literature, printing and promotion, and three cents to the disabled veterans who assist in the assembling of the poppies.

Stop and think, then go out on May 22 and give.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The 1965 National Police Week is now a thing of the past. After all the ceremonies and tributes are over, police officers are still patrolling in cruisers and covering their beats as they do 52 weeks, year in and year out.

Many of us are quick to praise the police officer one week a year, but even quicker to criticize them the remaining 51 weeks. Too few people realize or appreciate the possibility of danger that policemen must work and live with 24 hours a day. Every action they take carries the potential of injury or death, no matter how trivial it may seem.

I believe strongly in a national week of formal recognition for the work that police officers perform. But, I believe even more strongly that every week of the year we should be thankful that they are there and ready for the time when any one of us may need them.

Fire Prevention Precautions Set In St. Clair Area

Fearing delays because of travel conditions over St. Clair Ave. and the fact that access to some residential areas is cut off, city firemen have laid fire hoses at hydrants on two streets and added additional pre - connected hose to pumpers at North Side and Central Fire Stations.

Access to Taft School on Maplewood Ave. and homes in the neighborhood was one of the chief reasons for locating hose at hydrants on Maplewood and Garner Ave., Chief Charles Bryan said.

Two 50-foot sections of 2½ - inch hose and one section of 1½-inch line have been attached to the Garner Ave. hydrant with two sections of both 2½- and 1½-inch hose ready at Maplewood Ave., the chief said.

Firemen have added 150 feet of pre-connected 1½-inch hose to the Central Pumper and 100 feet to the North Side truck, primarily because the trucks may not be able to reach a fire area and the hose may have to be carried.

Fire Prevention Precautions Set In St. Clair Area

Fearing delays because of travel conditions over St. Clair Ave. and the fact that access to some residential areas is cut off, city firemen have laid fire hoses at hydrants on two streets and added additional pre - connected hose to pumpers at North Side and Central Fire Stations.

Access to Taft School on Maplewood Ave. and homes in the neighborhood was one of the chief reasons for locating hose at hydrants on Maplewood and Garner Ave., Chief Charles Bryan said.

Two 50-foot sections of 2½ - inch hose and one section of 1½-inch line have been attached to the Garner Ave. hydrant with two sections of both 2½- and 1½-inch hose ready at Maplewood Ave., the chief said.

Firemen have added 150 feet of pre-connected 1½-inch hose to the Central Pumper and 100 feet to the North Side truck, primarily because the trucks may not be able to reach a fire area and the hose may have to be carried.

4-H Group To Meet

Herron Fines Driver For Traffic Violation

NEW CUMBERLAND — Robert R. Pasco, 38, of 1212 Ridge Ave. was fined $10 and costs Wednesday by Squire John D. Herron on a charge of failing to have his auto under control.

Pasco was cited May 10 by Police Chief William Webster when his car struck a parked truck on N. Chestnut St., injuring a passenger in his car, Mary Shamp, 49, of R. D. 1. She suffered head and facial injuries.

Paving Start Delayed

Herman Brothers, Inc., of Youngstown, contractor, was delayed in a scheduled start this morning on pouring the first concrete for the St. Clair Ave. rebuilding project. A spokesman for the State Highway Department field office said, however, the concrete work was expected to start this afternoon.

Boy's Unhurt As He Dashes Into Car Path

A 12-year-old boy escaped injury when he ran into the path of an auto Wednesday at 5:48 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. at Sylvan St., police reported.

Officers identified the youngster as Richard Bohannon. They said he was bumped by a 1963 two - door sedan operated by George B. Buchheit, 20, of 241 W. Church Ln.

Buchheit told Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes he was driving east when the boy ran from the south side of the street and struck the side of his car. The boy agreed with the motorist's report, insisted he was unhurt and refused medical treatment, police said.

Two autos were damaged in an another East End mishap 22 minutes earlier, police said.

The collision at 5:22 at Virginia Ave. and Mapletree Sts. involved a 1950 two - door sedan driven by Louis D. Ludwig, 16, of 2027 Ohio Ave. and a 1965 two - door sedan operated by Fred W. Stern, 54, of 1069 St. George St., police said.

Ludwig said he turned off Virginia Ave. onto Mapletree St., but found he could not proceed because of oncoming traffic. Ludwig said he then began to back his auto and bumped the Stern car, which was halted behind him.

Bill Eichenberger of R. D. 1 told police the right side of his 1957 model auto was damaged Wednesday when struck by a hit - skip car while parked on a lot at the Loblaw, Inc., market on Bradshaw Ave.

Officers filed a supplementary report Wednesday in which they said Herbert F. Hughes Jr., 1430 Globe St., said it was his auto which struck a parked car owned by Robert V. Bontempt, 1036 Bradshaw Ave., early Wednesday on Bradshaw Ave. near Ambrose Ave. Hughes told police he lost control of his car as he drove east on Bradshaw Ave.

Based on reports made by the motorists, the damage to the Bontempt and Hughes autos previously was listed as two separate hit - skip accidents.

Judge Questions Story

2 Suspected In Car Race Given Fines For Parking

The State Highway Patrol suspected, but could not prove, charges of drag racing against two young Wellsville men and the pair wound up in Municipal Court today accused of parking illegally on the shoulder of the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd.

Walter E. Cross, 20, of 1719 Lincoln Ave. and Richard Eugene Sell, 22, of 709 Washington Ave. would not confirm the suspicions of Patrolman J. T. Garrison that they had been drag racing on the four - lane stretch. They said they simply parked their 1965 autos near Silvers Switch and "went for a ride with a friend."

With a note of disbelief in his voice, Judge Samuel Chertoff commented that: "I think there's more to the story than you are telling me."

"You're testing my imagination," the judge added. "I can't believe your story."

He fined the two $25 and costs each on the patrol charge that they parked on the shoulder of the highway without lights visible 500 feet to the front and a red light visible 500 feet to the rear.

The patrol officer testified he was in the East Liverpool police station at approximately 2 a.m. Wednesday when a telephoned complaint was received on drag racing on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. He said when he went to investigate he saw the two cars parked on the shoulder. As he turned around to investigate he saw "two subjects jump over the guard rail and disappear toward the river," he said.

The officer said he checked the two autos and found they were unlocked. He said he then had them towed away for safekeeping.

Later, he said, Cross and Sell came to the East Liverpool police station to inquire about their autos. He said Cross denied running away from the scene, but Sell admitted the flight.

Both pleaded guilty to the illegal parking charges and each offered the explanation about "going for a ride with a friend."

After pronouncing sentence, the judge said: "If you had told the truth, I would have been more lenient with you."

Meanwhile, a man and a woman who pleaded guilty to driving without operator's permits were given suspended 10-day County Jail terms.

The defendants were Lawrence Ocepek, 45, of 231 E. 3rd St., cited by the State Highway Patrol Wednesday at 3:55 p. m. on Route 30, and Mrs. Bethel C. Payne of Thompson Pl., arrested Wednesday at 2:45 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. by Capt. Robert Pyle.

The woman said she has been driving for a year and never had an operator's permit. She promised to obtain a license Saturday. The judge then continued her case until Monday.

Ocepek indicated he does not intend to reside in East Liverpool much longer. He had an expired California permit, the patrol said. The judge told Ocepek he must obtain a permit if he resides in East Liverpool after June 1.

William S. Lamp, 20, of Shadyside Ave. pleaded guilty to an improper auto registration charge filed after his arrest Wednesday at 10:15 p. m. on Washington St. by Patrolman Paul Blevins. Lamp admitted he was driving a 1955 Ford with a license issued for a 1957 Mercury. He said he has been unemployed for about two years, but admitted ownership of both cars.

The judge ordered Lamp to surrender the tags to Capt. Pyle and obtain a proper license. He said he will hold Lamp's driver's license until he complies with the order.

Robert C. Laughlin of Glenmoor was fined $40 and costs on a charge of operating a truck with a 3,560-pound overload. He was cited by the patrol Tuesday at 5:30 p. m. on Route 7.

Nelson K. Reed, 1018 Pennsylvania Ave., was fined $15 and costs on a reckless driving charge filed by police after his auto allegedly struck a parked car early Sunday on Washington St. and shoved it over the curb, damaging a parking meter.

Reed had pleaded guilty Monday. The fine was set after he appeared in court today and showed proof his insurance company will pay for damages to the auto and the meter.

Lisbon Girls To Reside In Los Angeles

Miss Barbara Dorrance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Dorrance of E. Chestnut St., and Miss Cecelia Dawes of the East Liverpool Rd., left Wednesday morning by car for Los Angeles, where they plan to make their home. En route, they will visit with Cadet Carl McPherson of the Air Force Academy of Colorado Springs, Colo., a former classmate at David Anderson High School.

Miss Dorrance formerly was employed as medical secretary of Doctors Hospital of Cleveland and more recently as a secretary in the offices of the Dorrance Furniture Co. here. Miss Dawes has been employed at the Farmers National Bank.

The Dorrances were hosts at a farewell supper party Sunday evening at their summer home at Guilford Lake. Guests were from Pittsburgh and Lisbon, including Mr. and Mrs. Dawes.

The ONO Club met with Mrs. Roger Swartz of E. High St. Tuesday night.

Prizes for Hollywood canasta were awarded Mrs. Harold Adams and Mrs. Russell Dixon.

The club will meet June 15, with miniature golf featuring the entertainment.

Mrs. Randall Forbes was a guest of the Wednesday Night Club when it was entertained at the home of Mrs. Victor Williams of S. Lincoln Ave. Tuesday night.

High scores for bridge went to Mrs. Gladys Loudon and Mrs. John Chillik.

"Football is a game where they number the players and they number the holes you're supposed to run through," says John Crow who will be with the San Francisco 49ers next season.

Shaw also cited the fact that Columbiana CATV has contracted with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to install, maintain and service its system.

"We feel Ohio Bell's skilled personnel and unmatched excellence in the communications field will guarantee the best possible CATV system for East Liverpool and Wellsville," he said. "Ohio Bell's manpower will be available around the clock every day to make any needed repairs quickly."

Shaw explained he issued the invitation to the meeting because:

"On May 18, before the Wellsville City Council, Mr. James Coffey of Rego Industries commented that he would like to have a joint meeting of the East Liverpool and Wellsville City Councils for the purpose of clarifying the apparent confusion which has arrived over CATV. Columbiana CATV, Inc., welcomes Mr. Coffey's suggestion and, in the interests of implementing such a meeting, I have sent letters to all members of both the East Liverpool and Wellsville City Councils inviting them to be present at a meeting which will be held at the Travelers Hotel on Tuesday, May 25, at 6:30 p.m., for dinner and a meeting immediately thereafter."

Beaver Local Seniors Ready For Class Trip

Fifty-six Beaver Local High School seniors will leave Friday night for New York on the annual class trip.

The students, who will stay at the Bristol Hotel, will visit the World's Fair, Radio City Music Hall, Empire State Building and other sites, leaving for home Tuesday night.

South Side May Queen Crowning Set Tonight

The ninth annual May Queen will be crowned during ceremonies tonight at the Spring Festival of South Side High School at Hookstown.

The ceremonies will highlight a program which includes an industrial arts show, Home Economics exhibition, a French demonstration in the school's new $14,000 language laboratory and a concert by the school concert band.

The various exhibits will be set up throughout the school and will be open to the public beginning at 7.

The band concert, under the direction of George Russi, is scheduled for 8 in the auditorium. The queen will be crowned at 9:15.

Mrs. Marie Elliott is in charge of the crowning; Andrew Dulick, industrial arts; Mrs. Seretta Allen, home economics, and Stewart Kennedy, the language demonstration.

All exhibits will be open until 11.

The South Side Band Boosters organization will sponsor a bake sale at the school from 6 to 11 in conjunction with the festival.

Mrs. Gladys Littel, chairman, said proceeds will be used for various band projects.

Manager Mel McGaha of the Kansas City Athletics is the youngest manager in the major leagues this season. He is 38 and 10 months younger than Manager Gene Mauch of Philadelphia.

Wrecker Goofs, Tears Down Wrong House

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Irving Steinman picked up the telephone and heard a man say: "Say, do you own the house at 142 S. St. Andrews?"

"Yes, I do," Steinman replied.

"Well," David D. Davis responded, "I just tore it down."

Davis explained he was supposed to tear down a similar house — two doors away.

Steinman said Wednesday his house was worth about $5,000, adding "I'm sure I can't get it out of the wrecker's liability insurance. This wasn't an act of God, it was an act of mortal man."

Lawrence Cullifer, worshipful master, made the presentation.

The following officers for the coming year were elected at the meeting: Carl Shepherd, worshipful master; Marcus Trough Jr., senior warden; Dewey McPherson, junior warden; Harold Dickey, secretary; Walter McSwegin, treasurer; Jim Dickey, senior steward, and Elvet Finley, junior steward.

Bruce Wheatley was appointed senior deacon and Monty Grimes junior deacon. Frank Weaver was appointed Tyler.

Installation will take place June 1. The past masters degree will be observed at 7 p.m. prior to the meeting.

Wrecker Goofs, Tears Down Wrong House

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Irving Steinman picked up the telephone and heard a man say: "Say, do you own the house at 142 S. St. Andrews?"

"Yes, I do," Steinman replied.

"Well," David D. Davis responded, "I just tore it down."

Davis explained he was supposed to tear down a similar house — two doors away.

Steinman said Wednesday his house was worth about $5,000, adding "I'm sure I can't get it out of the wrecker's liability insurance. This wasn't an act of God, it was an act of mortal man."

Lodge Will Join Program Sunday

Members of John Washington Masonic Lodge 92 will participate in a Lodge of Sorrow program Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Quinn African Methodist Episcopal Church in Steubenville.

Byron Carter is worshipful master of the local lodge. The public is invited to attend the program.

The local lodge will hold a social for members and their friends Saturday at 8 p.m. at the lodge hall.

The lodge was inspected this week by Dennis Palmer of Steubenville, district deputy grand lecturer, and the Fellowcraft degree was exemplified. The lecture was presented by Joe Porter, past worshipful master.

Plans are being outlined for the observance of St. John's Day June 20 at 5 p.m. at the lodge hall. The Rev. Ed Arrington of Massillon, former pastor of the local Second Baptist Church, will deliver the sermon.

Shastri Toes Red Line

Close India-Soviet Ties Could Hurt U.S. Prestige

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India has opened what it hopes will be a new era of friendly and profitable cooperation with the Soviet Union. It could bring a steep decline in American influence and prestige in this nation of 480 million.

Already, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri has toed the Soviet line by criticizing U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam without his recent balancing condemnation of all foreign interference in Viet Nam.

Shastri returned today from an eight-day visit to the Soviet Union proclaiming that India has Moscow's "sympathy and support" in many matters. This contrasted with widespread belief in New Delhi that India isn't getting this from the United States.

The U.S. image in India has been in trouble since President Johnson said last month he was going to be busy with the Viet Nam crisis and domestic affairs and asked Shastri to postpone a visit to Washington in June.

Many in New Delhi took this as humiliating, heavy-handed rebuke for Shastri's attitude toward the U.S. role in Viet Nam.

Before American diplomats here could put things right, another dispute developed. India charged Pakistan was using American military aid equipment against Indian soldiers in the Rann of Kutch.

Pakistan made the same charges against India. Washington reminded both governments that American military aid was to be used against communism, not against each other.

Being put in the same boat with their Pakistani enemies made the Indians angrier.

Indian newspapers reported in great detail how the Soviets laid out the red carpet. President Johnson was too busy, the newspapers pointed out, but Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin interrupted his schedule to accompany Shatri from Moscow to Leningrad.

Indian officials who returned home before Shastri reported the Soviets were planning to double trade with India in the next five years to about $840 million a year.

The Soviets were also said to have promised to double aid for the next five-year development plan to $840 million.

There were broad hints of long-term credits and military aid — perhaps tanks to match those America gave Pakistan, ships to strengthen India's rusting navy or even supersonic jet fighters which the United States refused to provide.

With such a package dangling before their eyes, many Indians found it easy to overlook the fact that Soviet aid so far is only one-sixth of the more than $6 billion the United States has poured into India.

No criticism was heard because the Soviets gave no public backing to India on two crucial issues.

One is India's quarrels with Pakistan over the disputed Rann of Kutch area and the Himalayan state of Kashmir.

Officers Named By Lady Elks At Dinner Meeting

Mrs. June Betteridge was elected president of Lady Elks at the anniversary dinner meeting Monday night at the lodge home. Eighty attended.

Other officers named are: Mrs. Martha Wycoff, vice president; Mrs. Lucille Nally, recording secretary; Mrs. Alva Webber, financial secretary; Mrs. Betty Berg, treasurer; Mrs. Virginia Manypenny, parliamentarian; Mrs. Edith Waggle and Mrs. Margaret Seibert, guards, and Mrs. Gladys Bourne, Mrs. Hazel Welch and Mrs. Dora Massey, trustees.

Mrs. Linda Scott, retiring president, welcomed the new members, Mrs. Florence House, Mrs. Kathleen Reed, Mrs. Dorothy Hissam and Mrs. Ruth Alford.

Plans were discussed for the annual picnic July 26 at the Backus Farm in Glenmoor.

The dinner was prepared and served by members of Calcutta Grange.

Installation of officers will take place at the next session, a coverdish dinner June 21.

Industrial Nurse Unit Given Talk By Wheeling Man

Richard Merinar of Wheeling was guest speaker during the dinner session of the Tri-State Valley Industrial Nurses Association Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room in Wellsville. Thirty-two attended.

Associated with the Professional Service Department of the Smith, Cline and French Drug Co., his topic was "The Silent Revolution," concerning drugs for mental conditions.

Mrs. Ruby Webb of the Hall China Co., president, conducted business and was named delegate to the Presidents Conference in September at Indianapolis, Ind.

Other local nurses attending were Mrs. Jane Garver of the Homer Laughlin China Co., Mrs. Helen Hargreaves of the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co. and Mrs. Rhea Nile of the Sterling China Co.

The next session will be Sept. 21 at Oglebay Park, Wheeling, with the Wheeling Steel Corp. the sponsor.

Puppet Program Set By Troop At Ohioville

A puppet show will be presented by Ohioville Brownie Troop 65 Saturday at the Fairview Grange grounds in Ohioville.

Mrs. Sam McKinney, leader, said about 30 will participate, with Brownies making the puppets.

Forty Brownies and guests held a cook-out and hike earlier this week. Mrs. McKinney, Mrs. Russell Foster, Mrs. Paul Beardshall and Mrs. Ed Colonna accompanied the group.

A fly - up ceremony will be held for 19 third - grade girls Tuesday from 4 to 5 p. m. in the fire hall. A program will be presented for mothers and committee women.

The new Girl Scout Troop will be headed by Mrs. Foster, accompanied by Mrs. Beardshall and Mrs. Phillip Graham.

Bellefontaine Firm Bids On Building Pact

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Knowlton Construction Co., Bellefontaine, submitted the only bid—$1,342,000—for the general construction of a classroom building and a library on the Middletown campus of Miami University.

The Ohio Department of Public Works said Wednesday Knowlton's bid was $123,740 less than the state estimate for the project of $1,465,740.

Amphitheater's Plans Approved

A committee backing construction of a new amphitheater in Thompson Park approved plans for the structure drawn by Architect Robert F. Beatty at a meeting Wednesday night in Mayor Merrill D. Hall's office.

The mayor commented that the committee was "very pleased" with Beatty's sketches and the architect now will proceed with detailed plans.

Plans for a fund campaign to finance erection of the amphitheater will be made at a meeting of the publicity committee and the finance committee next Wednesday night at 8 at the mayor's office. Robert Hall heads the publicity committee and Robert E. Boyce is chairman of the finance committee.

Plans for the amphitheater project have been under way since last Oct. 2.

Guilty Plea Made In 1962 Robbery

BEAVER — James Richard Jackson of 611 College St., East Liverpool, was returned to County Jail Monday after pleading guilty to a charge of armed robbery before a session of the Beaver County Grand Jury.

He was charged with the April 11, 1962, robbery of the Dawson Grocery Store at Georgetown and has been imprisoned at the West Virginia state prison in Moundsville since 1962.

He was extradited to Beaver County May 30 on the robbery charges.

Forty - eight cases were heard Monday and Wednesday. The court was not in session Tuesday due to the election.

Sentencings are set to begin June 8.

Star Award Presentation Marks Banquet At Citadel

Sixty attended the fourth annual mother - daughter banquet of the Guard and Sunbeam Group of the Salvation Army Tuesday night at the Citadel.

A highlight of the event was the presentation of a star award to Miss Eva Ruth Hathorn, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. William Hathorn, by Mrs. Capt. Clarence Kinnett of Cleveland, divisional Guard and Sunbeam director of North-East Ohio, guest speaker.

Miss Hathorn is the recipient of the commissioner's Sunbeam medal, which is the highest honor one can attain. The star which she received will go on the medal, which signifies that she has passed 36 Sunbeam proficiency tests. She is the only member this year in 35 centers in Ohio eligible for the award. She has been a Sunbeam for four years.

Mrs. Ruth Ann Duke is leader of the Sunbeams, which includes 25 members. Four of the girls graduated to the Guard group — Miss Hathorn, Corrine Wright, Sharon Thomas and Annette Oates. Mrs. Virginia Corbett is leader of the Guards.

EVA RUTH HATHORN
Honored During Program.

The dinner was prepared and served by the Guard and Sunbeam troop committee, with Mrs. Grace Treleven president.

Band Activities Outlined At Group's Final Session

Band activities for the summer were outlined by Vincent Maola, supervisor of instrumental music, when the ELHS Band and Orchestra Mothers held their final meeting of the school term Tuesday night at Memorial Auditorium.

The "Blue Band" is completing final plans for a concert to be presented during the Three Rivers Arts Festival in Pittsburgh June 5.

Maola suggested that band members and parents attend a concert by the U.S. Navy Band Saturday at Salem.

Commenting on remarks made at a recent school board meeting concerning tag days in East Liverpool, Maola told the group he agrees with John R. Woomer's views on the matter. However, he pointed out that since the Board of Education is not permitted to finance most of the needs of the band it is necessary to conduct a tag day as well as other fund-raising projects.

He also requested that inquiries concerning the band's activities be directed to him personally.

Mrs. Charles R. Waggoner, retiring president, conducted the business session and thanked Maola and the band mothers for the assistance and cooperation she received during her term of office.

Replacement of some uniforms and plumes for the hats was discussed.

Mrs. George Welker and Mrs. Charles Deshler were named to head a committee to fit new band members with uniforms.

Mrs. Donald Duke, retiring treasurer, gave her year - end report. Mrs. Earl Locke, chairman of the auditing committee, also reported to the group. Other members of the committee were Mrs. Thomas Snow and Mrs. Carl Schnieder.

Final reports also were presented by Mrs. Deshler, retiring vice president, for the ways and means committee; Mrs. Guy Looman, social, and Mrs. Willis Standley, dinner-dance.

The band mothers will assist a local catering service in serving the senior banquet June 1.

During a candlelight installation service conducted by Mrs. Waggoner, new officers were seated. They include: Mrs. James Lessel, president; Mrs. Fred Yonz, vice president; Mrs. Harry L. Simpson, secretary, and Mrs. Evelyn Walker, treasurer.

Special recognition was given to the 20 senior mothers present.

Mrs. Lessel named these committee chairmen for the new term: Mrs. Welker and Mrs. Arnold McDowell, social; Mrs. James Anderson, program; Mrs. Hugh Mackall, telephone; Mrs. Jacob Goempel and Mrs. Donald Krafft, football program, and Mrs. James Smith, nurse.

The gift of the month was awarded to Mrs. Deshler.

Mrs. Albert Rodenhausen conducted the devotions, using the theme "Growing Up."

Refreshments were served to 65 by the social committee. The buffet table was covered with white linen and centered with figurines dressed in colonial attire. Floral arrangements of spring flowers and silver tapers in flower - encircled pink net holders were used.

Newell Auxiliary To Hold Election

Plans for an election June 6 were made at a meeting of the Auxiliary of the Newell American Legion Monday night at the post.

Elizabeth Hupp, president, said the voting is scheduled to begin at 4 p. m. She also reported that the Auxiliary has been invited to participate in the annual Memorial Day services at Clark Field.

The Auxiliary will attend church as a group Sunday as a part of its Memorial Day observances. Those attending are to meet in front of the First Presbyterian Church at 6th and Grant St. at 10:45 a. m.

Mrs. Sadie Nally, chairman, reminded members of Poppy Day on June 29.

Rogers Firemen Win Parade Prize At Unity

UNITY — The Rogers volunteer fire department won a prize for the newest truck at the Unity firemen's parade Wednesday night, opening the firemen's festival which will continue through Saturday.

Election Set For Post 70

Wellsville American Legion Post 70 will elect officers Monday, with the polls to be open from 1 to 8 p.m.

No balloting will be permitted once the weekly business session has started, the committee in charge emphasized.

The post also will elect delegates and alternates to the district and department conventions and to the Columbiana County Legion Council.

Harry Crawford, second vice commander, said the annual picnic will be June 13. Those planning to attend are to register at the post.

Phillip Garey has been accepted as a new member of the post.

A dance will be held at the post Saturday night, with Russ Ludwig and the Blue Shades providing the music.

Final Approval Given Budget At Western Beaver

Final approval has been given an operating budget of $1,117,825 for 1965-66 by the Western Beaver County School Board.

The tax structure will remain the same as last year—30 mills on real estate, 10 mills on wages and other earned income and $12 for personal taxes.

The budget had been approved tentatively by the board at its meeting April 5.

In other action, the board reelected Mrs. Jane Speerhas its secretary for four years and decided to negotiate with Blair Ferguson, school bus contractor, for an additional three - year contract.

The next regular meeting will be June 7.

AN EAST LIVERPOOL YOUTH, John David Sixt, 23, of 738 Cain St., was one of four Ohio college students locked in a space cabin simulator for four weeks in a nutrition and personal hygiene study sponsored by the Aerospace Medical Research Laboratories at the Wright-Patterson Air Force base near Dayton. Sixt is at the left in the front row. He is a student at Ohio State. The experiment, which concluded Tuesday, was number eight in a series of 12. The four men have now entered a metabolic ward, where they are isolated and confined for the final week of the test.

Boy Injured As Jack Slips

A 13-year-old boy whose arms caught under a car wheel when a jack slipped was among seven area residents treated at City Hospital Wednesday.

John Richman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Richman of the Calcutta - Cannons Mill Rd., suffered fractures of the arms when the auto slipped from the jack while he was changing a tire at home late yesterday afternoon.

Suzanne Jackson, daughter of Fred Jackson of Highland Colony, was treated last night for a puncture wound of the right foot after she stepped on a nail.

Harry Barlow of 308 Thompson Ave. also received a foot wound when he stepped upon a nail.

Stephen Stacey, son of James Stacey of 603 Garner Ave., suffered lacerations of the upper lip when struck in the mouth by a baseball.

Richard Byers, son of Richard Byers of 315 Morton St., received a cut on the forehead when struck by a stone while at play.

In a fall from a bassinett, Terese Beth Jaggart, daughter of Melvin Jaggart of 643 Riley Ave., suffered a possible arm fracutre.

Walter Wolfe of 2113 Michigan Ave. received abrasions of fingers of the right hand from the fan belt of an auto.

Divorcee Plans To Sail Alone On Hawaii Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I just want to be alone for a while on the ocean," says a trim divorcee who hopes to become the first woman to sail alone to Hawaii.

Sharon Sites, 34, plans to begin the 2,225-mile voyage June 12 although she started taking sailing lessons only three months ago.

Her only company will be Sarah Beth-Ann, a pet turtle.

Mrs. Sites won't have a radio or any other electronic gear aboard her 25-foot sloop "Sea Sharp."

"I don't really need one," she said, "and I don't particularly want to talk to anyone."

Jury Returns Verdict In Defendant's Favor

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury deliberated an hour and 25 minutes Wednesday afternoon before returning a verdict for the defendant, Chappell-Zimmerman, Inc., 641 Ohio St., Salem, in a $35,800 personal injury suit filed by John F. Ogden of Columbus.

The plaintiff was struck by a highlight operated by Leroy Gibson during construction of the Salem Golf Club swimming pool. He claimed he was partially disabled as a result, with his hearing permanently impaired.

The three-day trial began Monday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Lets Son Go To Jail

TAYLORSVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Judge Sam Poole Wednesday gave George Stout the choice of whipping his son, Steve, 18, on the courthouse steps or letting him go to jail. Stout, a mill worker and a farmer, decided against the public whipping. Steve is now serving two 12-month terms for breaking and entering.

Former Resident Of Newell To Be Awarded Ph. D

H. Charles Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allison of 425 Harrison St., Newell, has completed all requirements for his Ph.D. in Educational Administration at the University of Chicago.

The degree will be awarded during the June convocation.

Allison was educated in the public schools of Newell and was a 1949 graduate of Wells High School.

After a tour of duty with the Navy, he received a B.S. degree from West Virginia University in 1956 and an M.A. degree from the same institution in 1959. In addition, he pursued advanced studies at Syracuse University.

While at the University of Chicago, 1962-1964, Allison was employed as a staff associate in the Midwest Administration Center.

In this capacity he served as assistant director of Education Field Services for the university. He is currently employed as assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction of the Greensboro Public Schools at Greensboro, N.C.

Bethany Will Confer Degree On Governor

BETHANY, W. Va. (AP) — Gov. Hulett C. Smith of West Virginia will receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Public Affairs during Bethany College's commencement exercises June 6.

The activities will mark the 125th anniversary observance of the founding of the state's oldest college.

2 Are Penalized In Juvenile Case

LISBON — Two area men were fined Wednesday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin after they were found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of three area juveniles.

Robert W. Wright, 18, of Newell and Daniel L. Harris, 19, of MC 21 East Liverpool, were fined $50 and costs each, had their driver's licenses suspended for 60 days and were placed on a 7 p.m. curfew.

They were charged with purchasing beer for the juveniles, which was consumed in a car being driven by a 16-year-old East Liverpool youth. They were cited to Juvenile Court after they were stopped by police Sunday at 12:20 a.m. by Juvenile Officer James Miller.

The three juveniles, the driver of the car and two 17-year-old 7th Ave., LaCroft, youths were fined $10 and placed under a curfew and their driving privileges suspended for 60 days.

Testimony showed that the driver had not consumed beer, but had two cola drinks, Miller said.

Penalty 'Dueled' Out

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The North Carolina General Assembly Wednesday abolished the death penalty for killing someone in a duel. No duels have been reported in the state since 1868.

Chamber Dinner Honors Top Seniors At 4 Schools

The Chamber of Commerce presented certificates of achievement to approximately 80 seniors representing the top 10 per cent of the graduating classes at four area high schools at its fifth annual scholarship recognition dinner Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

More than 100 attended the event, including the students and faculty representatives from East Liverpool, Beaver Local, Oak Glen and South Side High Schools.

The Chamber was represented by members of its Board of Trustees and the public education committee, which arranged the affair.

Edwin Maloney, chairman of the public education committee, was master of ceremonies. Robert E. Boyce, Chamber president, spoke briefly to congratulate the graduates on their accomplishments.

Dr. C. M. Mayberry gave the invocation.

School flags were used to decorate the banquet room. Tables were trimmed with school colors. Students' place cards were marked with their school colors. Each guest also received a name tag.

The invitation list included 42 prospective graduates of the local high school; 23 at Oak Glen; 14 at Beaver Local High School and nine at South Side High School near Hookstown.

In addition to Maloney, the members of the public education committee are School Supt. Paul Blair, Leslie Blumenthal, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown, a member of the Board of Education, Leo C. Lawrence, Dr. C. M. Mayberry, Collin L. Neal, J. A. Roslund and C. V. Hughes.

Plans Are Complete For '39 Class Event

Final arrangements for a reunion of the 1939 graduating class of East Liverpool High School have been made by the committee in charge.

The affair will be held June 26 at the Elks Lodge.

Mrs. Mildred Stull, secretary, said six members of the class have yet to be located.

Mrs. Margaret Seibert and Ernest Purton, co - chairmen, said the deadline for reservations is May 26 and that anyone who was a member of the class at any time is welcome to attend the reunion.

McDowell Halts Orioles On 3 Hits; Twins Sweep Pair

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins are talking trade, apparently in an effort to bolster their relief pitching.

The Los Angeles Angels would like to know why.

The Angels saw four Minnesota relievers Wednesday night but not too many of their pitches, collecting only two hits in 7 2-3 innings as the Twins swept a doubleheader 3-1 in 12 innings and 3-1.

Before the twin bill, Twins' President Cal Griffith revealed that he had been discussing a trade with Kansas City.

The Twins, naturally, would like to get a top reliever of the caliber of Kansas City's John Wyatt, but that four-man relief parlay they threw at the Angels in the opener got the job done about as effectively as it can be.

Dave Boswell, the Twins starter, allowed only two hits and then Jerry Fosnow, Al Worthington, Bill Pleis and Dick Stigman went him one better by holding the Angels to one hit over the final six innings.

Then, in the nightcap, Jim Grant needed help, so Worthington came on again and allowed just one hit over the last 1 2-3 innings.

It was a pitchers' night all around the American League with Cleveland's Sam McDowell checking Baltimore 2-0 on three hits, Detroit's Denny McLain stopping Washington 4-0 on four hits, Boston's Jim Lonborg allowing only four in a 3-0 victory over the New York Yankees and Kansas City's John O'Donoghue snapping the Chicago White Sox' nine-game winning streak with a four-hit, 7-3 triumph.

The Twins won the opener in the 12th when Zoilo Versalles and Sandy Valdespino singled, moved up on along fly by Rich Rollins and scored on Tony Oliva's single. Albie Pearson's homer accounted for the Angels run.

In the nightcap, Jerry Zimmeran's single drove in the first run in the second inning before Zoilo Versalles tripled and scored the decisive run in the fifth on a single by Jerry Kindall.

While McDowell, now 3-2, was handcuffing the Orioles, the Indians nicked Steve Barber for four singles and both their runs in the fifth and sixth innings.

Max Alvis' infield hit, a sacrifice and Chuck Hinton's single got the first run across before Alvis singled across the other in the sixth after Leon Wagner collected a hit and advanced to second on a walk.

McLain, now 1-2, got the only runs he needed to beat the Senators when the Tigers jumped on Bennie Daniels for two runs in the fifth inning.

A walk and singles by George Thomas and Don Wert — the first hits off Daniels — produced the first run before McLain delivered a run-scoring single. Two Washington errors helped Detroit to two more runs in the seventh.

Lonborg, now 22, beat the Yankees for the second straight time with the aid of rookie teammate Rico Petrocelli, who stroked two key doubles, drove in one run and scored another.

Chuck Schilling led an 11-hit Boston attack with three hits while Petrocelli, Tony Conigliaro and Felix Mantilla stroked two each.

O'Donoghue, winning his first game since April 15, brought his record to 2-5 with the aid of third-inning homers by John Blanchard and Bill Bryan that started the A's on their way.

Fairly's 2-Run Homer Nips Astros In 14th Inning; Cards Edge Phils

Pavletich's Blast Trips Pirates, 3-1

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ron Fairly, a clean-up hitter by default, is beginning to look like a natural for the role.

The young Los Angeles Dodgers veteran, who inherited the No. 4 spot in a lightweight batting order when Tommy Davis fractured an ankle three weeks ago, broke up a 14-inning duel at Houston Wednesday night with his fourth hit, a two-run homer that gave the National League leaders a 4-2 victory over the Astros.

Fairly drove in the first Dodger run with a single and scored the tying run in the eighth while lifting his batting average 17 points to .289 and taking the club RBI lead with 18.

The 26-year-old outfielder-first baseman, a semi-regular at Los Angeles for five full seasons, followed Willie Davis' two-out single in the 14th with a shot into the Astrodome's right-field seats off reliever Ken MacKenzie.

Don Drysdale then made his first relief appearance of the year to end a Houston threat in the bottom of the inning and keep the Dodgers 3½ games up on Cincinnati in the young National League race.

The Reds beat Pittsburgh 3-1 on eighth-inning homers by Deron Johnson and Don Pavletich; Milwaukee downed the New York Mets 7-5 behind a 15-hit attack led by Joe Torre and St. Louis rallied for two runs in the ninth to nip Philadelphia 7-6 in NL night action.

Ernie Banks' two-run single carried the Chicago Cubs and right-hander Bob Buhl to a 2-1 nod over San Francisco in the only afternoon game.

Fairly, who had ended Astro pitcher Ken Johnson's no-hit bid the previous night with a seventh-inning double, capped Wednesday night's Los Angeles comeback with his fifth home run. He had doubled in the eighth and scored the tying run on Lou Johnson's single, which kayoed Astro starter Dave Giusti.

Drysdale replaced winning pitcher John Purdin in the 14th with two on and struck out Joe Morgan to end the marathon.

Pittsburgh's Joe Gibbon was leading 1-0 and had allowed only one hit when Cincinnati's Johnson led off the eighth with his sixth homer. Tony Perez singled and Pavletich cracked his fourth homer for the Reds' winning margin.

The victory went to reliever Bill McCool, who took over for Jim Maloney in the seventh.

Torre hit his ninth home run, a double and a single as the Braves made right-hander Bob Sadowski's first appearance since April 29 a breeze.

Dick Groat's two-out single in the ninth scored Lou Brock with the winning run at St. Louis. Ken Boyer's sacrifice fly had tied the score against reliever Ed Roebuck.

Home runs by Tim McCarver in the sixth and pinch-hitter Phil Gagliano in the seventh pulled the Cardinals within striking distance after the Phillies had broken in front 5-2.

Banks delivered the decisive hit against the Giants after Ron Santo was walked intentionally, loading the bases with one out. The hit was Banks' first in 11 at-bats.

The lower course of the Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, N. J., will be the scene of the 1967 U.S. Open. It was on this course that Ed Furgol won the 1954 Open with a 284 score.

Tiger Picked Over Carter

NEW YORK (AP) — Nigeria's aging Dick Tiger is a 12-5 favorite to whip Rubin Carter in a 10-round battle of middleweight contenders at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The 35-year-old Nigerian and the 28-year-old slugger from Paterson, N.J., do have a couple of things in common. Both lost in close title fights to middleweight champion Joey Giardello and the two are burning to get another shot at the reluctant 160-pound ruler.

The winner may get a crack at pal Joey if former champion Sugar Ray Robinson or No. 1 contender Joe Archer don't get the chance first.

Tiger has been made the betting choice over the fierce-looking Jerseyite because of his superior boxing skill and stronger punching with both hands.

In his only outing this year, the stocky, former champion stopped flabby Rocky Rivero of Argentina in the sixth round on March 26. His record is 50-14-3, including 24 knockots.

Carter, 3-2 for the year, has a 23-7 record, including 16 knockouts. He has been stopped once, by Joe Gonzalez two years ago.

Jockey Johnny Longden has won the Hollywood Derby five times. He first won it with Busher in 1945. He won the 1964 race with Real Good Deal. He has been second in the race four times.

Schoolboy Mile Standout Is Headed For Kansas U.

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The barefoot youngster in gym shorts walked like a tenderfoot, complaining about gravel as he headed for a tool shed to talk.

The same feet which carried Jim Ryun to a 3:58.3 mile, fastest ever by a school boy, were not quite tough enough for the small rocks in a cement walk outside the field house at East High.

"I tried to be on the pace all the way," the lanky 18-year-old high school senior said of last Saturday's performance in the Kansas high school track meet. "I was a little off on the second and third laps but I picked up on the last one."

The national high school mark of 4:06 was set last year by Gary Lindgren of Spokane, Wash. Ryun's time must be certified by the National High School Activities Association, which meets this summer.

Ryun says he doesn't have much time for dates. He attends services at a Church of Christ here three times a week.

The 6-foot, 1-inch youth plans to run in three invitational meets in California in the next month — at Modesto, Compton, and the Golden West meet at Sacramento.

"It would be nice to go to Russia for the United States-Russian dual," he said, "but you have to place in the top two spots in the National AAU to get that trip. I don't know whether I can do that."

Ryun admitted that constant training gets to be a grind in winter months, but snow and ice don't stop his morning workouts.

"In the spring and summer I'm running in competition, and I get to travel," he said. "Then I know it's worthwhile."

His school classes includes physics, psychology and drafting. He hasn't thought much about the future, but said "I might study engineering or for a coaching career. I don't know yet.

"Right now I'm able to keep up with the school work. I make A's and B's in my grades, mostly B's."

He will graduate May 31 and plans to enroll at the University of Kansas where his old high school mentor, Bob Timmons, was recently named head track coach.

Spahn Takes Hill Against Ex-Mates

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn, baseball's ageless wonder now wearing No. 21 for the New York Mets, returns to the scene of some of his greatest triumphs tonight when he faces his old Braves teammates for the first time in Milwaukee County Stadium.

Sold to the Mets last fall after winning 357 National League games with the Braves in Boston and Milwaukee, Spahn considers his initial test against his former club "a major challenge."

"I realize we aren't in any World Series, but I want to do my best and look good in the city where I spent 12 wonderful years," the 44-year-old lefthander said.

"However, I may feel a little bit strange for a few seconds. It marks the first time in my life I've faced a former bunch of teammates."

Rated washed up by the Milwaukee management after a 6-13 record in 1964, Spahn has taken on a new lease of life as a player-coach with the Mets.

"If I had to leave Milwaukee, I couldn't have gone to a better club," he said. "I'm pitching 100 per cent better than last year and everything is wonderful. I'm really happy to be with Manager Casey Stengel. He's a grand old guy and has renewed my confidence."

In seven starts, Spahn has won three of six decisions and posted a 3.54 earned-run average. The winningest southpaw in baseball history, he will be shooting for victory No. 360 against the Braves. A triumph will boost him into a sixth-place tie with Kid Nichols among all-time winners.

Spahn's appearance is expected to attract the largest Milwaukee crowd since nearly 34,000 turned out opening day. A crowd of more than 10,000 is anticipated as fans temporarily relax an unorganized boycott of the Braves, who are headed for Atlanta after this season.

Ironically, Spahn will be opposed on the mound by 21-year-old Wade Blasingame, a lefthander who says old No. 21 was his idol. Spahn took charge of Blasingame in the youngster's rookie season last year and they became roommates on road trips.

Myler Pitches 2-Hitter As Beaver Nips Toronto

Jack Myler and Toronto's Kunkel hooked up in a pitcher's duel both allowing only two hits as Beaver Local nipped the Red Knights 3-1 Wednesday on the Beaver diamond.

Myler allowed one run in the first inning and gave up two singles the rest of way while fanning nine batters as Beaver Local played errorless ball.

Beaver Local took advantage of an error and wild pitch to score two runs in the fourth inning while the other run came in the sixth inning on a roundtripper by Larry Ensinger.

Kunkel struck out 10 batters while giving up a home run and single.

Beaver Local is scheduled to meet East Liverpool Friday at Colt Field.

McDowell Halts Orioles On 3 Hits; Twins Sweep Pair

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins are talking trade, apparently in an effort to bolster their relief pitching.

The Los Angeles Angels would like to know why.

The Angels saw four Minnesota relievers Wednesday night but not too many of their pitches, collecting only two hits in 7 2-3 innings as the Twins swept a doubleheader 3-1 in 12 innings and 3-1.

Before the twin bill, Twins' President Cal Griffith revealed that he had been discussing a trade with Kansas City.

The Twins, naturally, would like to get a top reliever of the caliber of Kansas City's John Wyatt, but that four-man relief parlay they threw at the Angels in the opener got the job done about as effectively as it can be.

Dave Boswell, the Twins starter, allowed only two hits and then Jerry Fosnow, Al Worthington, Bill Pleis and Dick Stigman went him one better by holding the Angels to one hit over the final six innings.

Then, in the nightcap, Jim Grant needed help, so Worthington came on again and allowed just one hit over the last 1 2-3 innings.

It was a pitchers' night all around the American League with Cleveland's Sam McDowell checking Baltimore 2-0 on three hits, Detroit's Denny McLain stopping Washington 4-0 on four hits, Boston's Jim Lonborg allowing only four in a 3-0 victory over the New York Yankees and Kansas City's John O'Donoghue snapping the Chicago White Sox' nine-game winning streak with a four-hit, 7-3 triumph.

The Twins won the opener in the 12th when Zoilo Versalles and Sandy Valdespino singled, moved up on along fly by Rich Rollins and scored on Tony Oliva's single. Albie Pearson's homer accounted for the Angels run.

In the nightcap, Jerry Zimmeran's single drove in the first run in the second inning before Zoilo Versalles tripled and scored the decisive run in the fifth on a single by Jerry Kindall.

While McDowell, now 3-2, was handcuffing the Orioles, the Indians nicked Steve Barber for four singles and both their runs in the fifth and sixth innings.

Max Alvis' infield hit, a sacrifice and Chuck Hinton's single got the first run across before Alvis singled across the other in the sixth after Leon Wagner collected a hit and advanced to second on a walk.

McLain, now 1-2, got the only runs he needed to beat the Senators when the Tigers jumped on Bennie Daniels for two runs in the fifth inning.

A walk and singles by George Thomas and Don Wert — the first hits off Daniels — produced the first run before McLain delivered a run-scoring single. Two Washington errors helped Detroit to two more runs in the seventh.

Lonborg, now 22, beat the Yankees for the second straight time with the aid of rookie teammate Rico Petrocelli, who stroked two key doubles, drove in one run and scored another.

Chuck Schilling led an 11-hit Boston attack with three hits while Petrocelli, Tony Conigliaro and Felix Mantilla stroked two each.

O'Donoghue, winning his first game since April 15, brought his record to 2-5 with the aid of third-inning homers by John Blanchard and Bill Bryan that started the A's on their way.

Fairly's 2-Run Homer Nips Astros In 14th Inning; Cards Edge Phils

Pavletich's Blast Trips Pirates, 3-1

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ron Fairly, a clean-up hitter by default, is beginning to look like a natural for the role.

The young Los Angeles Dodgers veteran, who inherited the No. 4 spot in a lightweight batting order when Tommy Davis fractured an ankle three weeks ago, broke up a 14-inning duel at Houston Wednesday night with his fourth hit, a two-run homer that gave the National League leaders a 4-2 victory over the Astros.

Fairly drove in the first Dodger run with a single and scored the tying run in the eighth while lifting his batting average 17 points to .289 and taking the club RBI lead with 18.

The 26-year-old outfielder-first baseman, a semi-regular at Los Angeles for five full seasons, followed Willie Davis' two-out single in the 14th with a shot into the Astrodome's right-field seats off reliever Ken MacKenzie.

Don Drysdale then made his first relief appearance of the year to end a Houston threat in the bottom of the inning and keep the Dodgers 3½ games up on Cincinnati in the young National League race.

The Reds beat Pittsburgh 3-1 on eighth-inning homers by Deron Johnson and Don Pavletich; Milwaukee downed the New York Mets 7-5 behind a 15-hit attack led by Joe Torre and St. Louis rallied for two runs in the ninth to nip Philadelphia 7-6 in NL night action.

Ernie Banks' two-run single carried the Chicago Cubs and right-hander Bob Buhl to a 2-1 nod over San Francisco in the only afternoon game.

Fairly, who had ended Astro pitcher Ken Johnson's no-hit bid the previous night with a seventh-inning double, capped Wednesday night's Los Angeles comeback with his fifth home run. He had doubled in the eighth and scored the tying run on Lou Johnson's single, which kayoed Astro starter Dave Giusti.

Drysdale replaced winning pitcher John Purdin in the 14th with two on and struck out Joe Morgan to end the marathon.

Pittsburgh's Joe Gibbon was leading 1-0 and had allowed only one hit when Cincinnati's Johnson led off the eighth with his sixth homer. Tony Perez singled and Pavletich cracked his fourth homer for the Reds' winning margin.

The victory went to reliever Bill McCool, who took over for Jim Maloney in the seventh.

Torre hit his ninth home run, a double and a single as the Braves made right-hander Bob Sadowski's first appearance since April 29 a breeze.

Dick Groat's two-out single in the ninth scored Lou Brock with the winning run at St. Louis. Ken Boyer's sacrifice fly had tied the score against reliever Ed Roebuck.

Home runs by Tim McCarver in the sixth and pinch-hitter Phil Gagliano in the seventh pulled the Cardinals within striking distance after the Phillies had broken in front 5-2.

Banks delivered the decisive hit against the Giants after Ron Santo was walked intentionally, loading the bases with one out. The hit was Banks' first in 11 at-bats.

The Apaches outhit the Colts, 15-9 but wound up on the losing end. Belting home runs for the losers were Mike Post with two while Chuck Gamble connected for a roundtripper.

John Ewing was the winning pitcher with John Talbot the loser.

TWO OF THE National League's top sluggers Willie Mays, left, of the Gaints and Chicago's Ernie Banks got together Wednesday before the two teams met at Chicago. Mays is leading the league in home runs with 14 while Banks is tops in RBI's with 36. (UPI Telephoto)

200 Entries Expected For Beagle Trial Here

The East Liverpool Beagle Club will hold its fourth annual AKC license trial beginning Saturday on the club grounds near Glenmoor on the Round Knob Rd.

A total of 215 hounds competed in the trial held last year.

Kurthe Cameron of Salem and Ed Czwalga of Cheswick, Pa. will judge 13-inch males Saturday while Al Steinka of Ann Arbor, Mich. and John Pape of Punxsutawney, Pa. will judge 13-inch females Sunday and Monday and 15-inch females and males Wednesday and Thursday.

An beagle AKC registered is eligible. All hounds will be measured from 7 to 8 a. m. the day the class is to run and drawings will be held at 8 a. m.

Home cooked meals will be served during the trial by the ladies auxiliary. No admission fee will be charged and spectators are welcome. Alfred Bayless is president of the local club.

Tiger Picked Over Carter

NEW YORK (AP) — Nigeria's aging Dick Tiger is a 12-5 favorite to whip Rubin Carter in a 10-round battle of middleweight contenders at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The 35-year-old Nigerian and the 28-year-old slugger from Paterson, N.J., do have a couple of things in common. Both lost in close title fights to middleweight champion Joey Giardello and the two are burning to get another shot at the reluctant 160-pound ruler.

The winner may get a crack at pal Joey if former champion Sugar Ray Robinson or No. 1 contender Joe Archer don't get the chance first.

Tiger has been made the betting choice over the fierce-looking Jerseyite because of his superior boxing skill and stronger punching with both hands.

In his only outing this year, the stocky, former champion stopped flabby Rocky Rivero of Argentina in the sixth round on March 26. His record is 50-14-3, including 24 knockots.

Carter, 3-2 for the year, has a 23-7 record, including 16 knockouts. He has been stopped once, by Joe Gonzalez two years ago.

Jockey Johnny Longden has won the Hollywood Derby five times. He first won it with Busher in 1945. He won the 1964 race with Real Good Deal. He has been second in the race four times.

The lower course of the Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, N. J., will be the scene of the 1967 U.S. Open. It was on this course that Ed Furgol won the 1954 Open with a 284 score.

WVU Freshman, 19, Is Drowning Victim

MORGANTOWN (AP) — A West Virginia University freshman drowned Wednesday in Cheat Lake near here.

Authorities identified the victim as 19-year-old James Edwards, a former high school track star from Morgantown High School.

According to witnesses, Edwards was swimming across the lake with friends when he suddenly yelled for help and sank.

His body was recovered a short time later by a scuba diver.

Dave Bing, who averaged 23.2 points a game for Syracuse, will be back with the Orange basketball team next season.

Congressmen Propose 3 Leagues For Majors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six congressmen, two each from New York, Texas and Wisconsin, have proposed that four more cities be granted major league franchises and that baseball be reorganized into three eight-team leagues.

The request came Wednesday in the form of a letter to Commissioner Ford C. Frick, National League President Warren Giles, American League President Joe Cronin and the 20 big league owners.

Signing the letters were Reps. Thaddeus J. Dulski, D-N.Y.; Richard D. McCarthy, D-N.Y.; Earle Cabell, D-Tex.; James C. Wright, D-Tex.; Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., and Clement Zablocki, D-Wis.

They suggested the granting of franchises to Buffalo, Dallas-Fort Worth, Milwaukee and a fourth city ready to qualify. The teams would be organized in time for the 1966 season and be distributed among three eight-team leagues.

In New York, Frick said he had received the letter, but would not comment until he had answered it.

Buffalo has an International League franchise. Dallas-Fort Worth plays in the Texas League. The Milwaukee Braves of the National League will move to Atlanta for the 1966 season, leaving Milwaukee without a team.

Memphis Course Proves Nightmare To Nicklaus

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — There is little Jack Nicklaus has not done in his four years as a professional golfer, but he's finally run into a course that gives him nightmares.

"I hope I'm getting all this out of my system today," Nicklaus said as he shot a miserable round in the pro-am of the $60,000 Memphis Open Wednesday.

"There is just no reason for this," he said after he missed one of many two-foot putts. "I've seen beginners play better than this."

Despite the round and the fact that he's never played well on the short, par 70 Colonial Country Club course, Nicklaus was installed the favorite to take the $9,000 first-place money.

In the pro-am, Nicklaus shot a 43 on the par 34 front nine but was two-under par with a 34 on the par 36 backside.

A field of 144 was set to tee off today in the Memphis Open.

The 6,466-yard course has whipped Nicklaus both times he's played in the Memphis Open. He finished 11th in 1963 and tied for 12th in 1964.

Also attracting a lot of attention Wednesday was defending champion Mike Souchak and young Bill Martindale, who finished in a tie for second Sunday in the $100,000 New Orleans Open.

Another man who will bear watching is the New Orleans winner, Dick Mayer, who at 41 has started a sensational comeback after sitting on the sidelines for seven years.

Drill Practice Held By Wellsville Patrol

Drill practice followed the regular session during the meeting of the Wellsville Civil Air Patrol Wednesday night at Daw Junior High School.

The squadron practiced at the Mason parking lot. It will march in the community's Memorial Day parade.

Nine cadets and four senior members attended. Becky Davidson and Dawn Williams were guests. They plan to join a girls' squadron being formed. Anyone in the tri-state area interested in joining either group should attend the meetings each Wednesday night. The squadron is open to any boy or girl from 13 to 18.

The next meeting will be Wednesday night at 7 at Daw Junior High.

Carmel's First Home Run Gives Buffalo Victory

By The Associated Press

Duke Carmel hit his first home run of the season Wednesday night with two men on that gave Buffalo a 4-1 victory over Syracuse. It was his first hit of the series.

The Bisons have won only 10 of their 35 International League games.

Elsewhere, Toledo walloped league-leading Atlanta 9-3, Columbus defeated Jacksonville 6-2 and Toronto whipped Rochester 8-1.

Toledo pounced on two Atlanta pitchers for six runs in the second inning and then added three in the sixth as the Mud Hens collected 15 hits from five Atlanta pitchers.

Jacksonville Manager Grover Resinger was ejected from the game during a rhubarb over Johnny Powers' second home run for Columbus. The two-run shot gave the Jets a 4-0 lead that the Suns were never able to match.

Jacksonville scored its two runs after two wild pitches by Columbus starter and winner Frank Bork.

Last Nomination Of Officers Held By Newell Legion

Final nomination for officers of Newell American Legion Post 114 was made at a meeting Wednesday night at the post home.

Donald DeLong, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers for election June 2.

Polls will open at 2 p. m. and close at 7:30. Tellers will be Harry Messenheimer, Herman Cameron and Robert Bennett.

Adjutant Tony LaNeve and Edward Hupp reported on the recent First District convention at Benwood.

George LaNeve discussed the Hancock County Youth Conservation Camp and was authorized to accept applications from area youths.

Dewaine Staley, commander, presided. The next meeting will be June 2.

Polar bears have become easy targets for hunters giving chase in airplanes and armed with high - powered, automatic rifles. Polar-bear rugs are now in vogue and magnificient white pelts bring high prices.

WVU Freshman, 19, Is Drowning Victim

MORGANTOWN (AP) — A West Virginia University freshman drowned Wednesday in Cheat Lake near here.

Authorities identified the victim as 19-year-old James Edwards, a former high school track star from Morgantown High School.

According to witnesses, Edwards was swimming across the lake with friends when he suddenly yelled for help and sank.

His body was recovered a short time later by a scuba diver.

Dave Bing, who averaged 23.2 points a game for Syracuse, will be back with the Orange basketball team next season.

Congressmen Propose 3 Leagues For Majors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six congressmen, two each from New York, Texas and Wisconsin, have proposed that four more cities be granted major league franchises and that baseball be reorganized into three eight-team leagues.

The request came Wednesday in the form of a letter to Commissioner Ford C. Frick, National League President Warren Giles, American League President Joe Cronin and the 20 big league owners.

Signing the letters were Reps. Thaddeus J. Dulski, D-N.Y.; Richard D. McCarthy, D-N.Y.; Earle Cabell, D-Tex.; James C. Wright, D-Tex.; Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., and Clement Zablocki, D-Wis.

They suggested the granting of franchises to Buffalo, Dallas-Fort Worth, Milwaukee and a fourth city ready to qualify. The teams would be organized in time for the 1966 season and be distributed among three eight-team leagues.

In New York, Frick said he had received the letter, but would not comment until he had answered it.

Buffalo has an International League franchise. Dallas-Fort Worth plays in the Texas League. The Milwaukee Braves of the National League will move to Atlanta for the 1966 season, leaving Milwaukee without a team.

Memphis Course Proves Nightmare To Nicklaus

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — There is little Jack Nicklaus has not done in his four years as a professional golfer, but he's finally run into a course that gives him nightmares.

"I hope I'm getting all this out of my system today," Nicklaus said as he shot a miserable round in the pro-am of the $60,000 Memphis Open Wednesday.

"There is just no reason for this," he said after he missed one of many two-foot putts. "I've seen beginners play better than this."

Despite the round and the fact that he's never played well on the short, par 70 Colonial Country Club course, Nicklaus was installed the favorite to take the $9,000 first-place money.

In the pro-am, Nicklaus shot a 43 on the par 34 front nine but was two-under par with a 34 on the par 36 backside.

A field of 144 was set to tee off today in the Memphis Open.

The 6,466-yard course has whipped Nicklaus both times he's played in the Memphis Open. He finished 11th in 1963 and tied for 12th in 1964.

Also attracting a lot of attention Wednesday was defending champion Mike Souchak and young Bill Martindale, who finished in a tie for second Sunday in the $100,000 New Orleans Open.

Another man who will bear watching is the New Orleans winner, Dick Mayer, who at 41 has started a sensational comeback after sitting on the sidelines for seven years.

Drill Practice Held By Wellsville Patrol

Drill practice followed the regular session during the meeting of the Wellsville Civil Air Patrol Wednesday night at Daw Junior High School.

The squadron practiced at the Mason parking lot. It will march in the community's Memorial Day parade.

Nine cadets and four senior members attended. Becky Davidson and Dawn Williams were guests. They plan to join a girls' squadron being formed. Anyone in the tri-state area interested in joining either group should attend the meetings each Wednesday night. The squadron is open to any boy or girl from 13 to 18.

The next meeting will be Wednesday night at 7 at Daw Junior High.

Carmel's First Home Run Gives Buffalo Victory

By The Associated Press

Duke Carmel hit his first home run of the season Wednesday night with two men on that gave Buffalo a 4-1 victory over Syracuse. It was his first hit of the series.

The Bisons have won only 10 of their 35 International League games.

Elsewhere, Toledo walloped league-leading Atlanta 9-3, Columbus defeated Jacksonville 6-2 and Toronto whipped Rochester 8-1.

Toledo pounced on two Atlanta pitchers for six runs in the second inning and then added three in the sixth as the Mud Hens collected 15 hits from five Atlanta pitchers.

Jacksonville Manager Grover Resinger was ejected from the game during a rhubarb over Johnny Powers' second home run for Columbus. The two-run shot gave the Jets a 4-0 lead that the Suns were never able to match.

Jacksonville scored its two runs after two wild pitches by Columbus starter and winner Frank Bork.

Last Nomination Of Officers Held By Newell Legion

Final nomination for officers of Newell American Legion Post 114 was made at a meeting Wednesday night at the post home.

Donald DeLong, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers for election June 2.

Polls will open at 2 p. m. and close at 7:30. Tellers will be Harry Messenheimer, Herman Cameron and Robert Bennett.

Adjutant Tony LaNeve and Edward Hupp reported on the recent First District convention at Benwood.

George LaNeve discussed the Hancock County Youth Conservation Camp and was authorized to accept applications from area youths.

Dewaine Staley, commander, presided. The next meeting will be June 2.

Polar bears have become easy targets for hunters giving chase in airplanes and armed with high - powered, automatic rifles. Polar-bear rugs are now in vogue and magnificient white pelts bring high prices.

Clinic Activities Reviewed At Meeting Of CP's Board

Reports of clinic activities were heard during the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Columbiana County Affiliate of the United Cerebral Palsy Association Tuesday night at Mary Patterson Memorial.

It was announced that from Sept. 1, 1964, until April 30, 1965, 27 children received 419 physical therapy treatments. The children, ranging in age frrom one to 14, are from all sections of the county and the tri-state area.

Twelve of the group wear either long or short braces or are wheelchair patients, eight are enrolled in school and eight in the Clinic Nursery School. Four children have been added to the program and two have moved from the area, it was reported.

When requested, psychological tests are available through the Child Counseling Center.

Members of the East Liverpool Junior Women's Club, the Future Teachers of America and the Key Club are active in the clinic and nursery school.

Richard Brian, president, reported an American flag has been received from the City Veterans Council.

The children received complimentary tickets from the East Liverpool - Calcutta Ruritan Club to the circus it is sponsoring June 5 at the Westgate School grounds.

The Junior Women's Club has contributed a bicycle exerciser and tricycle body support for use in the clinic.

Mrs. Nathan Weinbren, Atty. John B. McDonald and Brian were named to the Board of Directors of the East Liverpool Area United Fund Campaign, with Harrison Kyle and Walter Newton to head the Salem campaign.

The next session will be June 15 at Lisbon, with a report of the nominating committee to be heard.

Church To Count On Coaches For 'Victory Drive'

LISBON — Trinity Friends Church, west of Lisbon, is pinning hopes of victory in a Sunday School attendance contest on a professional football player and four area grid coaches.

The Rev. Mark Headland said Trinity is running second to Norfolk, Va., in its division of the Ohio "Yearly Meeting of Friends Contest" and a good turnout Sunday could put Trinity on top.

Scheduled to appear for the Christian Leadership Sunday program are Lou Slaby of Salem, middle linebacker for the New York Giants, and Coaches Edwin (Buc) Bucher of Lisbon, Ed Oliver of Southern Local, Don Clarico of Salem and Al Carrino of United.

Sunday School will be at 10 a. m. and the worship service at 11.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: We have some close friends who are dog lovers. Last evening my husband was telling about our 8-year-old son's unusual interest in science. The dog lover interrupted to tell a story about her poodle. Three years ago, she said, the dog began to take on the personality characteristics of her husband.

"When Tom suffered business reversals and became depressed the dog became depressed, too," she said. "He would not eat a thing. Tom had to be hospitalized. That same day the dog had to be hospitalized because he had become so weak from malnutrition he could barely walk."

She continued, "Six weeks later Tom returned home feeling much better. When the dog was brought home he was still melancholy. Upon seeing his master improved, the dog perked right up."

My husband and I believe that pet lovers who become involved with their animals imagine all sorts of things. We can't buy her story. What do you think? — DOUBTERS.

-:-

Dear Doubters: Animals have distinct personalities. It's not uncommon for personalties to be influenced by what happens around them. I do not doubt this story for one moment.

Faded Romance

Dear Ann: When I married my husband five years ago we were both in our middle 40s. Each year our marriage seemed to be rockier than the year before. I begged him to get professional help but his stock reply was, "I'm all right. You are the one who is nuts."

Several months ago when my husband became abusive I packed up and left him because I feared for my life.

I haven't seen him for three weeks, but he telephones every day to say he loves me. He wants a divorce so he can start courting me again and decide if we should be remarried.

I'm hoping we can recapture the wonderful joys we knew when we first met. Is there a chance? — DREAMS OF THE PAST.

-:-

Dear Past: No — and if you would stop dreaming long enough to remember what your marriage was REALLY like you'd know better, too. Why do you think your husband is going to treat you differently the second time around? Get with it, Sister.

Immature Parents

Dear Ann: This afternoon I glanced out the window as I was doing my dusting and I just happened to see the woman next door shaking my 4-year-old son by the arm.

I dashed out and ordered her to take her hands off my child. She shouted, "Bernard is always hitting my Albert and I'm not going to put up with it any longer."

Both children are 4 years of age but my Bernard is a little bit larger than her Albert.

I lost my temper and slapped the woman's face. She had metal curlers in her hair which caused a small cut on the side of her cheek.

The minute my husband drove into the garage my neighbor's husband was over here. He told my husband his wife was in bed with an ice pack and under sedation. He said his wife went to pieces after I hit her and they had to call the doctor. The last thing he said was, "There may be a lawsuit."

If a woman can be sued for protecting her child what kind of a country is this, anyway? Please comment — MRS. X.

-:-

Dear Mrs.: The kids are 4 years old. What's YOUR excuse? Hitting people is called assault and battery and your lawyer can tell you more about the chances of a suit than I can.

Apart from possible court action you owe this woman an apology, plus the price of the doctor's visit.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

U.P. Church Assembly Gets Warning As Meeting Opens

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The nation's biggest Presbyterian body convened today with a warning that computers may be a bigger threat to religion than the devil.

"Continuous concern with persons is the only thing that will preserve technological society from manipulating people and overriding personality," declared the Rev. John Coventry Smith of New York City. "Our lives of faith demonstrate a truth which extends beyond the areas where science speaks with authority," Smith said as the 177th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church U.S.A. opened here.

Dr. Edler Hawkins, the first Negro ever elected moderator, gave the opening sermon as 2,000 of the church's leaders assembled.

Election of a new moderator to replace Dr. Hawkins headed the order of business for the week-long session.

In two days of preassembly meetings, speakers hammered at what they viewed as accompanying evils of modern society, signaling a prelude to challenges the church faces in both doctrine and development.

A key issue before 835 voting delegates of the three-million-member denomination is modification of centuries-old doctrinal teachings. The changes: Salvation is not predestined and the Bible does not have to be interpreted literally.

The Presbyterians will also consider urging removal of legal barriers to interracial marriage.

The Rev. Mr. Smith, general secretary of the commission on ecumenical mission and relations, told a gathering Wednesday, "People are still people, but computers ignore individuality."

He termed a technological society one "where people become no more than punch holes in a card."

But, he added, people, "be they atomic scientist, operator of a computer or a grower of tulips have problems of dealing with themselves, with God and with each other."

"We are in this world as Christians not just as inhabitants."

Abbott's Fiancee Faces Jail Term, $800 Total Fines

CINCINNATI (AP) — Alice Ewing, 22-year-old former fiancee of Robert Ray Abbott, convicted slayer, faced 90 days in jail and fines totaling $800 today on charges of larceny by trick and illegally moving a body.

She was convicted in police court Wednesday. Municipal Judge William Lovelace assessed the jail term and a $300 fine after waving aside her plea of no contest on the larceny charge, then fined her $500, the maximum penalty provided in an ordinance making it illegal to remove a body without notifying the coroner. She was released on $1,000 bond, pending appeal.

The second charge involved Miss Ewing's alleged part in assisting Abbott in placing the body of Wanda Cook, 24-year-old nurse, in a trunk and shipping it to Cleveland. Miss Cook was slain in a downtown hotel room last Oct. 15.

The larceny-by-trick charge was filed only recently after Miss Ewing admitted using Miss Cook's charge-card to purchase a suitcase in a downtown department store the day after her death.

Ordered To School

NEW CUMBERLAND — Four 15-year-old youths who escaped from the Hancock County jail May 7 have been ordered sent to the Boys Industrial School at Pruntytown for a period of two years in a hearing conducted Tuesday morning by Judge Ralph Pryor.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Space Shot Lets LBJ Down

The word is out that President Lyndon Johnson is unhappy because our next two-man space capsule Gemini-Titan 4, has no TV camera aboard.

Hal Humphrey

When the Russians released color TV film of their recent space walker (seen on NBC last Friday) President Johnson expected we would have similar pictures after astronauts Jim McDivitt and Ed White complete their four-day flight in G-T4, which is scheduled for June 3. He found that TV cameras had been sacrificed for other experimental instruments on G-T4, so if Ed White steps out into space, which is the plan now, we will have to be content with only an audio description of his feat.

-:-

"I THINK the guy who made that no-TV decision is sorry now, but it's too late to do anything about it," says NBC's aerospace correspondent Roy Neal, who also shares President Johnson's unhappiness.

Neal and his conferers from the other networks who cover our space flights must try to see that they don't become humdrum affairs to TV viewers. Neal doesn't believe the American public will get that jaded. Nevertheless he's talking about NBC having a "secret weapon" in its coverage of G-T4's flight.

Chet Huntley and Dave Brinkley and color cameras are being used for the first time at the launch site, so are parts of this "secret weapon."

LAST MARCH astronauts Virgil Grissom and John Young were up only about five hours in G-T3. The proposed four-day and four-night flight of G-T4 is longer than all of our other space flights put together.

Obviously the TV networks aren't going to stay with G-T4 throughout the four days. Progress bulletins will be stripped across the bottom of TV screens periodically, probably after the first orbit, and cut-ins from the control center will be made when McDivitt and White are indulging in "extra vehicular activity," "EVA" as the spacemen call it.

Of course in this instance EVA, which includes White's walking around the outside of the G-T4, will not be seen because of the missing TV cameras.

-:-

"I THINK, though, that with the judicious use of devices at our new control center, we'll be able to keep everyone interested," maintains Neal.

Since the G-T3 flight last March, the control center for all U.S. space flights has been moved to the new man-space center at Houston, Tex. Cape Kennedy henceforth is to be used only for the actual launching.

Neal says a beautiful auditorium with the thickest oak paneling he's ever seen was built primarily for the use of the 947 accredited newsmen who now cover each space flight.

"The only trouble with it is the acoustics. You can't hear anything in it," Neal adds, "so we've been moved into an office building across the street, which is called Building 6."

-:-

THE NEW oak-paneled auditorium won't be a total loss to taxpayers. After each space flight, the astronauts will be flown there for interviewing by the press and TV, acoustics notwithstanding.

If there are no hitches in the G-T4 flight, we'll see G-T5 take off for a seven-day and seven-night orbiting in August. And next October is scheduled as the time for G-TA6, which involves two capsules in orbit for "docking and rendezvous." One meets the other and is moored to it temporarily.

Neal says he has no doubt that TV cameras will be aboard both G-T5 and G-TA6 flights, and that it is even possible we could see "live" TV pictures beamed from the recovery ships in the Pacific and Atlantic via the new Early Bird satellite.

Such a feat should make Roy Neal happier, to say nothing of millions of Americans, including Texans.

6 Major Dairies In Toledo Hit By Teamster Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The routine for getting a quart of milk in the Toledo area today was to get a slip from the doctor and go to one of four fire stations that had supplies. A strike of teamsters has cut off deliveries by the city's six major dairies.

Local 361 called the strike of about 500 drivers and plant workers early Wednesday after negotiations bogged down on a contract to replace one that expired April 4. Some bargaining followed Wednesday with a federal mediator assisting, but no progress was reported. No talks were scheduled for today.

Lawrence N. Steinberg, president of Teamsters Joint Council 55, said in a report to union officials on the walkout that "except for a few small retailers, stores are without milk to sell."

The six dairies struck are Sealtest, Briggs, Page, Babcock, Village Farms and Trilby Farm. They serve customers in Lucas, Ottawa, Fulton and Wood counties and three counties of Southern Michigan — Monroe, Lenawee and Hillsdale.

Vacation Winner To Be Named By Stores Saturday

The East Liverpool Merchants Association said today the winner of its current Bermuda Play - Time Vacation contest will be named publicly in a ceremony Saturday at 5 p. m. on the Diamond.

Miss Susan Jones, an East Liverpool High School student who holds the title, "Columbiana County Junior Miss," will draw the winning ticket that will award a store patron a free week's vacation for two at a plush Bermuda hotel, plus air travel both ways and $100 in pocket money.

Prizes worth $25 each offered by individual participating stores will be awarded prior to the drawing for the grand prize. The ELMA contest was launched May 1. Stores will deliver boxes containing tickets to the Diamond for the award ceremony.

Joseph D. Coons, general manager of WOHI, will serve as master of ceremonies. The event will be broadcast. A truck provided by Mike Turk, Inc., will serve as a platform for the ceremony.

3 Boys Find Body

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Three boys found the decomposed body of a Cuyahoga Falls woman in a small lake in Northhampton Township Wednesday night and authorities plan to send it to Cleveland for an autopsy.

The woman was identified as Mrs. Norma Hume, 40. Her husband made the identification from her rings and a watch.

Authorities said the woman was reported missing March 14 and said the body might have been in the water from one week to a month.

Space Shot Lets LBJ Down

The word is out that President Lyndon Johnson is unhappy because our next two-man space capsule Gemini-Titan 4, has no TV camera aboard.

Hal Humphrey

When the Russians released color TV film of their recent space walker (seen on NBC last Friday) President Johnson expected we would have similar pictures after astronauts Jim McDivitt and Ed White complete their four-day flight in G-T4, which is scheduled for June 3. He found that TV cameras had been sacrificed for other experimental instruments on G-T4, so if Ed White steps out into space, which is the plan now, we will have to be content with only an audio description of his feat.

-:-

"I THINK the guy who made that no-TV decision is sorry now, but it's too late to do anything about it," says NBC's aerospace correspondent Roy Neal, who also shares President Johnson's unhappiness.

Neal and his conferers from the other networks who cover our space flights must try to see that they don't become humdrum affairs to TV viewers. Neal doesn't believe the American public will get that jaded. Nevertheless he's talking about NBC having a "secret weapon" in its coverage of G-T4's flight.

Chet Huntley and Dave Brinkley and color cameras are being used for the first time at the launch site, so are parts of this "secret weapon."

LAST MARCH astronauts Virgil Grissom and John Young were up only about five hours in G-T3. The proposed four-day and four-night flight of G-T4 is longer than all of our other space flights put together.

Obviously the TV networks aren't going to stay with G-T4 throughout the four days. Progress bulletins will be stripped across the bottom of TV screens periodically, probably after the first orbit, and cut-ins from the control center will be made when McDivitt and White are indulging in "extra vehicular activity," "EVA" as the spacemen call it.

Of course in this instance EVA, which includes White's walking around the outside of the G-T4, will not be seen be-because of the missing TV cameras.

-:-

"I THINK, though, that with the judicious use of devices at our new control center, we'll be able to keep everyone interested," maintains Neal.

Since the G-T3 flight last March, the control center for all U.S. space flights has been moved to the new man-space center at Houston, Tex. Cape Kennedy henceforth is to be used only for the actual launching.

Neal says a beautiful auditorium with the thickest oak paneling he's ever seen was built primarily for the use of the 947 accredited newsmen who now cover each space flight.

"The only trouble with it is the acoustics. You can't hear anything in it," Neal adds, "so we've been moved into an office building across the street, which is called Building 6."

-:-

THE NEW oak-paneled auditorium won't be a total loss to taxpayers. After each space flight, the astronauts will be flown there for interviewing by the press and TV, acoustics notwithstanding.

If there are no hitches in the G-T4 flight, we'll see G-T5 take off for a seven-day and seven-night orbiting in August. And next October is scheduled as the time for G-TA6, which involves two capsules in orbit for "docking and rendezvous." One meets the other and is moored to it temporarily.

Neal says he has no doubt that TV cameras will be aboard both G-T5 and G-TA6 flights, and that it is even possible we could see "live" TV pictures beamed from the recovery ships in the Pacific and Atlantic via the new Early Bird satellite.

Such a feat should make Roy Neal happier, to say nothing of millions of Americans, including Texans.

6 Major Dairies In Toledo Hit By Teamster Strike

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The routine for getting a quart of milk in the Toledo area today was to get a slip from the doctor and go to one of four fire stations that had supplies. A strike of teamsters has cut off deliveries by the city's six major dairies.

Local 361 called the strike of about 500 drivers and plant workers early Wednesday after negotiations bogged down on a contract to replace one that expired April 4. Some bargaining followed Wednesday with a federal mediator assisting, but no progress was reported. No talks were scheduled for today.

Lawrence N. Steinberg, president of Teamsters Joint Council 55, said in a report to union officials on the walkout that "except for a few small retailers, stores are without milk to sell."

The six dairies struck are Sealtest, Briggs, Page, Babcock, Village Farms and Trilby Farm. They serve customers in Lucas, Ottawa, Fulton and Wood counties and three counties of Southern Michigan — Monroe, Lenawee and Hillsdale.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: To convert regular sheets and blankets into fitted ones, fasten one part of a gripper snap on the hem, about 12 inches from the bottom corner, and the other half of the snap about 12 inches up the side of the sheet.

Do the same on the bottom corner of the sheet.

Fasten the snaps together and the sheets or blankets become fitted; unsnap them, and they can be laundered or folded neatly.

These snaps can also be fastened to the top corners of the sheets to make them completely contour.

NORMA OLSON.

DEAR HELOISE: A hint for mommies with infants:

The tabs on little undershirts always get wet, too. Instead of pinning the tabs to the diapers, use the snaps on their rubber pants and keep the shirt outside.

The tab-holes are sometimes small but the snap can be forced to fit, and it's better than changing baby from skin out each time.

LAZY JOAN.

-:-

Hone, you aren't lazy a'tall! You're a clever mommie.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise: When one of my boys was 3, he started having some terrible temper tantrums.

I stopped the tantrums by recording them on the tape recorder, then making him sit on a chair and listen to himself.

Children like to hear themselves when they are good . . . but not when they are naughty!

B.A.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a free, unique way to give that new pup at your house exercise and amusement:

When plastic half-galions bottles of bleach or starch are empty, remove labels and tighten caps real good so they won't be swallowed.

Give the bottle a toss, and the puppy takes it from there. To him, it becomes a sparring mate (saves wear and nips on owners) a butting ram, a rolling toy or whatever he fancies.

Our 5-month-old pet graduated to the gallon size this week.

It also provides the fast excitement a pup is looking for at this age, especially when the pet is confined indoors.

MRS. A. J. MILLER.

DEAR HELOISE: I recently have returned from overseas and just love the adventure of the new package mixes, the kind in envelopes.

But how and where do you store them?

My once-neat cupboards are a mess with the envelopes slipping and sliding all over the shelves.

DORIS CRAMER.

-:-

How about it, gals? How do you store your envelopes of mixes?

If you have a solution to this question, how about dropping a line to Heloise in care of this paper? We sure would appreciate it.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When trying to cut nylon net into strips for my rosettes, it kept slipping off the table.

We have wall-to-wall nylon carpeting, so I put my net on the floor, smoothed it out and it clung to the rug beautifully—thereby, I finished my cutting job in half the time.

MRS. JERRY LAWSON.

DEAR HELOISE: A plastic straw (the type kids drink through) is perfect for running down an electric refrigerator drain when cleaning it.

ESTHER HULIHAN.

-:-

Sometimes this drain hole gets stopped up and we don't know it. So always check to see if it's completely open when defrosting.

HELOISE.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, May 20, the 140th day of 1965. There are 225 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1927, Charles Lindbergh took off from New York in his monoplane, the Spirit of St. Louis, on the first solo nonstop flight to Paris. He landed the next day.

On this date

In 1506, Christopher Columbus died in poverty in Spain.

In 1775, the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence was drawn up at Charlotte, in Mecklenburg County, North Carolina. It was the forerunner of the Philadelphia Declaration of Independence.

In 1932, Amelia Earhart took off from Newfoundland for Paris, but landed in Londonderry, Ireland. She was the first woman to fly alone across the Atlantic.

In 1958, Texas pianist Van Cliburn became the first musician to be given a hero's parade up New York City's Broadway.

Ten years ago — President Dwight Eisenhower used his first veto, on a bill providing Post Office Department pay raises.

Five years ago — President Eisenhower left Lisbon, Portugal, on his way home from the Paris summit conference which had failed.

One year ago — French President Charles de Gaulle proposed an international conference to restore peace and neutrality in Laos.

Manager Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phils and acting manager Bob Swift of the Detroit Tigers are natives of Salina, Kan.

Turncoat Picked Up After Escape From Hospital

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Lowell Skinner, a former Army corporal who spent 10 years in Communist China after the Korean War, is expected to be returned to Hawthornden State Hospital today.

Skinner and two other inmates of the hospital walked from the hospital in Northfield Tuesday. Skinner was picked up by Summit County deputy sheriffs Wednesday after his mother told them he was at the home of a relative. He offered no resistance.

Skinner, 34, defected to the Red Chinese and was dishonorably discharged from the Army. He had spent 80 days in combat.

Since returning to his home in 1963, he has been arrested five times and was committed to the mental hospital last February following a series of scrapes with Akron area police.

The two men who walked away with Skinner are still being sought. Deputies said there was no connection between the two men and Skinner.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: To convert regular sheets and blankets into fitted ones, fasten one part of a gripper snap on the hem, about 12 inches from the bottom corner, and the other half of the snap about 12 inches up the side of the sheet.

Do the same on the bottom corner of the sheet.

Fasten the snaps together and the sheets or blankets become fitted; unsnap them, and they can be laundered or folded neatly.

These snaps can also be fastened to the top corners of the sheets to make them completely contour.

NORMA OLSON.

DEAR HELOISE: A hint for mommies with infants:

The tabs on little undershirts always get wet, too. Instead of pinning the tabs to the diapers, use the snaps on their rubber pants and keep the shirt outside.

The tab-holes are sometimes small but the snap can be forced to fit, and it's better than changing baby from skin out each time.

LAZY JOAN.

-:-

Hone, you aren't lazy a'tall! You're a clever mommie.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise: When one of my boys was 3, he started having some terrible temper tantrums.

I stopped the tantrums by recording them on the tape recorder, then making him sit on a chair and listen to himself.

Children like to hear themselves when they are good . . . but not when they are naughty!

B.A.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a free, unique way to give that new pup at your house exercise and amusement:

When plastic half-galions bottles of bleach or starch are empty, remove labels and tighten caps real good so they won't be swallowed.

Give the bottle a toss, and the puppy takes it from there. To him, it becomes a sparring mate (saves wear and nips on owners) a butting ram, a rolling toy or whatever he fancies.

Our 5-month-old pet graduated to the gallon size this week.

It also provides the fast excitement a pup is looking for at this age, especially when the pet is confined indoors.

MRS. A. J. MILLER.

DEAR HELOISE: I recently have returned from overseas and just love the adventure of the new package mixes, the kind in envelopes.

But how and where do you store them?

My once-neat cupboards are a mess with the envelopes slipping and sliding all over the shelves.

DORIS CRAMER.

-:-

How about it, gals? How do you store your envelopes of mixes?

If you have a solution to this question, how about dropping a line to Heloise in care of this paper? We sure would appreciate it.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When trying to cut nylon net into strips for my rosettes, it kept slipping off the table.

We have wall-to-wall nylon carpeting, so I put my net on the floor, smoothed it out and it clung to the rug beautifully—thereby, I finished my cutting job in half the time.

MRS. JERRY LAWSON.

DEAR HELOISE: A plastic straw (the type kids drink through) is perfect for running down an electric refrigerator drain when cleaning it.

ESTHER HULIHAN.

-:-

Sometimes this drain hole gets stopped up and we don't know it. So always check to see if it's completely open when defrosting.

HELOISE.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, May 20, the 140th day of 1965. There are 225 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1927, Charles Lindbergh took off from New York in his monoplane, the Spirit of St. Louis, on the first solo nonstop flight to Paris. He landed the next day.

On this date

In 1506, Christopher Columbus died in poverty in Spain.

In 1775, the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence was drawn up at Charlotte, in Mecklenburg County, North Carolina. It was the forerunner of the Philadelphia Declaration of Independence.

In 1932, Amelia Earhart took off from Newfoundland for Paris, but landed in Londonderry, Ireland. She was the first woman to fly alone across the Atlantic.

In 1958, Texas pianist Van Cliburn became the first musician to be given a hero's parade up New York City's Broadway.

Ten years ago — President Dwight Eisenhower used his first veto, on a bill providing Post Office Department pay raises.

Five years ago — President Eisenhower left Lisbon, Portugal, on his way home from the Paris summit conference which had failed.

One year ago — French President Charles de Gaulle proposed an international conference to restore peace and neutrality in Laos.

Manager Gene Mauch of the Philadelphia Phils and acting manager Bob Swift of the Detroit Tigers are natives of Salina, Kan.

Turncoat Picked Up After Escape From Hospital

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Lowell Skinner, a former Army corporal who spent 10 years in Communist China after the Korean War, is expected to be returned to Hawthornden State Hospital today.

Skinner and two other inmates of the hospital walked from the hospital in Northfield Tuesday. Skinner was picked up by Summit County deputy sheriffs Wednesday after his mother told them he was at the home of a relative. He offered no resistance.

Skinner, 34, defected to the Red Chinese and was dishonorably discharged from the Army. He had spent 80 days in combat.

Since returning to his home in 1963, he has been arrested five times and was committed to the mental hospital last February following a series of scrapes with Akron area police.

The two men who walked away with Skinner are still being sought. Deputies said there was no connection between the two men and Skinner.

Junior Editors Quiz on MUSIC

QUESTION: From what was music originally produced?

ANSWER: It would be impossible to say just how music originated or who first started it, for the scanty records of the very earliest times do not give us any details. Yet it is safe to say that men have enjoyed and appreciated music ever since recorded history began. The Bible mentions many instruments and shows clearly how music was used to express the joys, as well as the sorrows, of the Hebrew people.

It seems probable to many that music originated in connection with dancing and singing. Imagine a group of healthy young cave teen-agers, as shown in our picture. What more natural then that, after sharing a good dinner, they should start a dance step around the cheerful fire, or get a rhythmical beat going by clapping hands? It would be natural, too, to imagine shouting or chanting as past of the celebration, and to suppose that as time went on, melody would appear and we would have music rather than just noise. Various instruments would appear to heighten the effect—hollow logs, leading to drums, primitive zinks and panpipes leading to modern wind instruments. The beautiful harp was made in the city of Ur, about 5000 years ago.

FOR YOU TO DO: To realize the emphasis the writers of the Bible put on music, read that magnificent Psalm number 150, with its stirring beginning, "Praise ye the Lord."

★ ★ ★

School Bus Hit In Rear By Car

No one was injured when a loaded school bus of the Stanton Local District was struck in the rear on Route 213, six - tenths a mile east of Hammondsville, Wednesday.

The State Highway Patrol at Wintersville said Wilson Hays, 40, of Hammondsville had halted the bus at a railroad crossing near the Dando Brick Co. A car operated by Henry E. Sheets, 17, of Empire halted behind the bus, but was shoved into the bus when struck in the rear by another car driven by Randy Lee Westbrook, 18, also of Empire.

Westbrook told officers he saw the vehicles ahead as he rounded a curve, but said his car slid as he applied the brakes. Moderate damage resulted to all three vehicles.

There were approximately 60 children on the bus. Westbrook was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. The mishap was timed at 9:30 a.m.

Future Teachers Give $50 To Scholar Fund

The Future Teachers of America of East Liverpool High School have contributed $50 to the Citizens Scholarship Foundation, Carl Pelini, principal, has announced.

The contribution is one of the largest ever given by a student organization to the "Dollars For Scholars" program for assisting college students, Pelini said.
